Dear Marianne
I expect to see your name in lights on Broadway
someday (?) work
up that good work
Good Luck

Marianne,
Howdy Kid what's new with you? You know, its really been fun knowing and thinking (?) working with you this year. (not really) You are a sweet kid
You have had lots of fun that O.K. I think your a real neat + fabulous person. Loads of luck + luck to you in the future,
Hope,

4. The most wonderful girl I know.

Since the beginning of this year, I've seen you grow from a shy, inhibited little girl, to a friendly (woo!) (woo!), uninhibited (woo!) little girl. This is an improvement. May your friendliness and uninhibitedness increase. I may have found a nicer, more talented, cuter, and screwier girl to fall for, but I doubt it. You are my inspiration. Because of you, I'm a fabulous shot putter (this is a questionable assertion, actually), and because of you, I'm a mediocre trumpet player (this is a fact). Since I met you, I've taken a sudden interest in badminton, acting, etc. This is unusual & I often wonder why. anyway, I often find myself wandering down, imagine this, Reed College place. I've used this cliché before, but I want to use it again — ~~since~~ before I met you, I was contemplating suicide, now I only think about it when I'm not with you.

You're a hellafa girl — *Willie

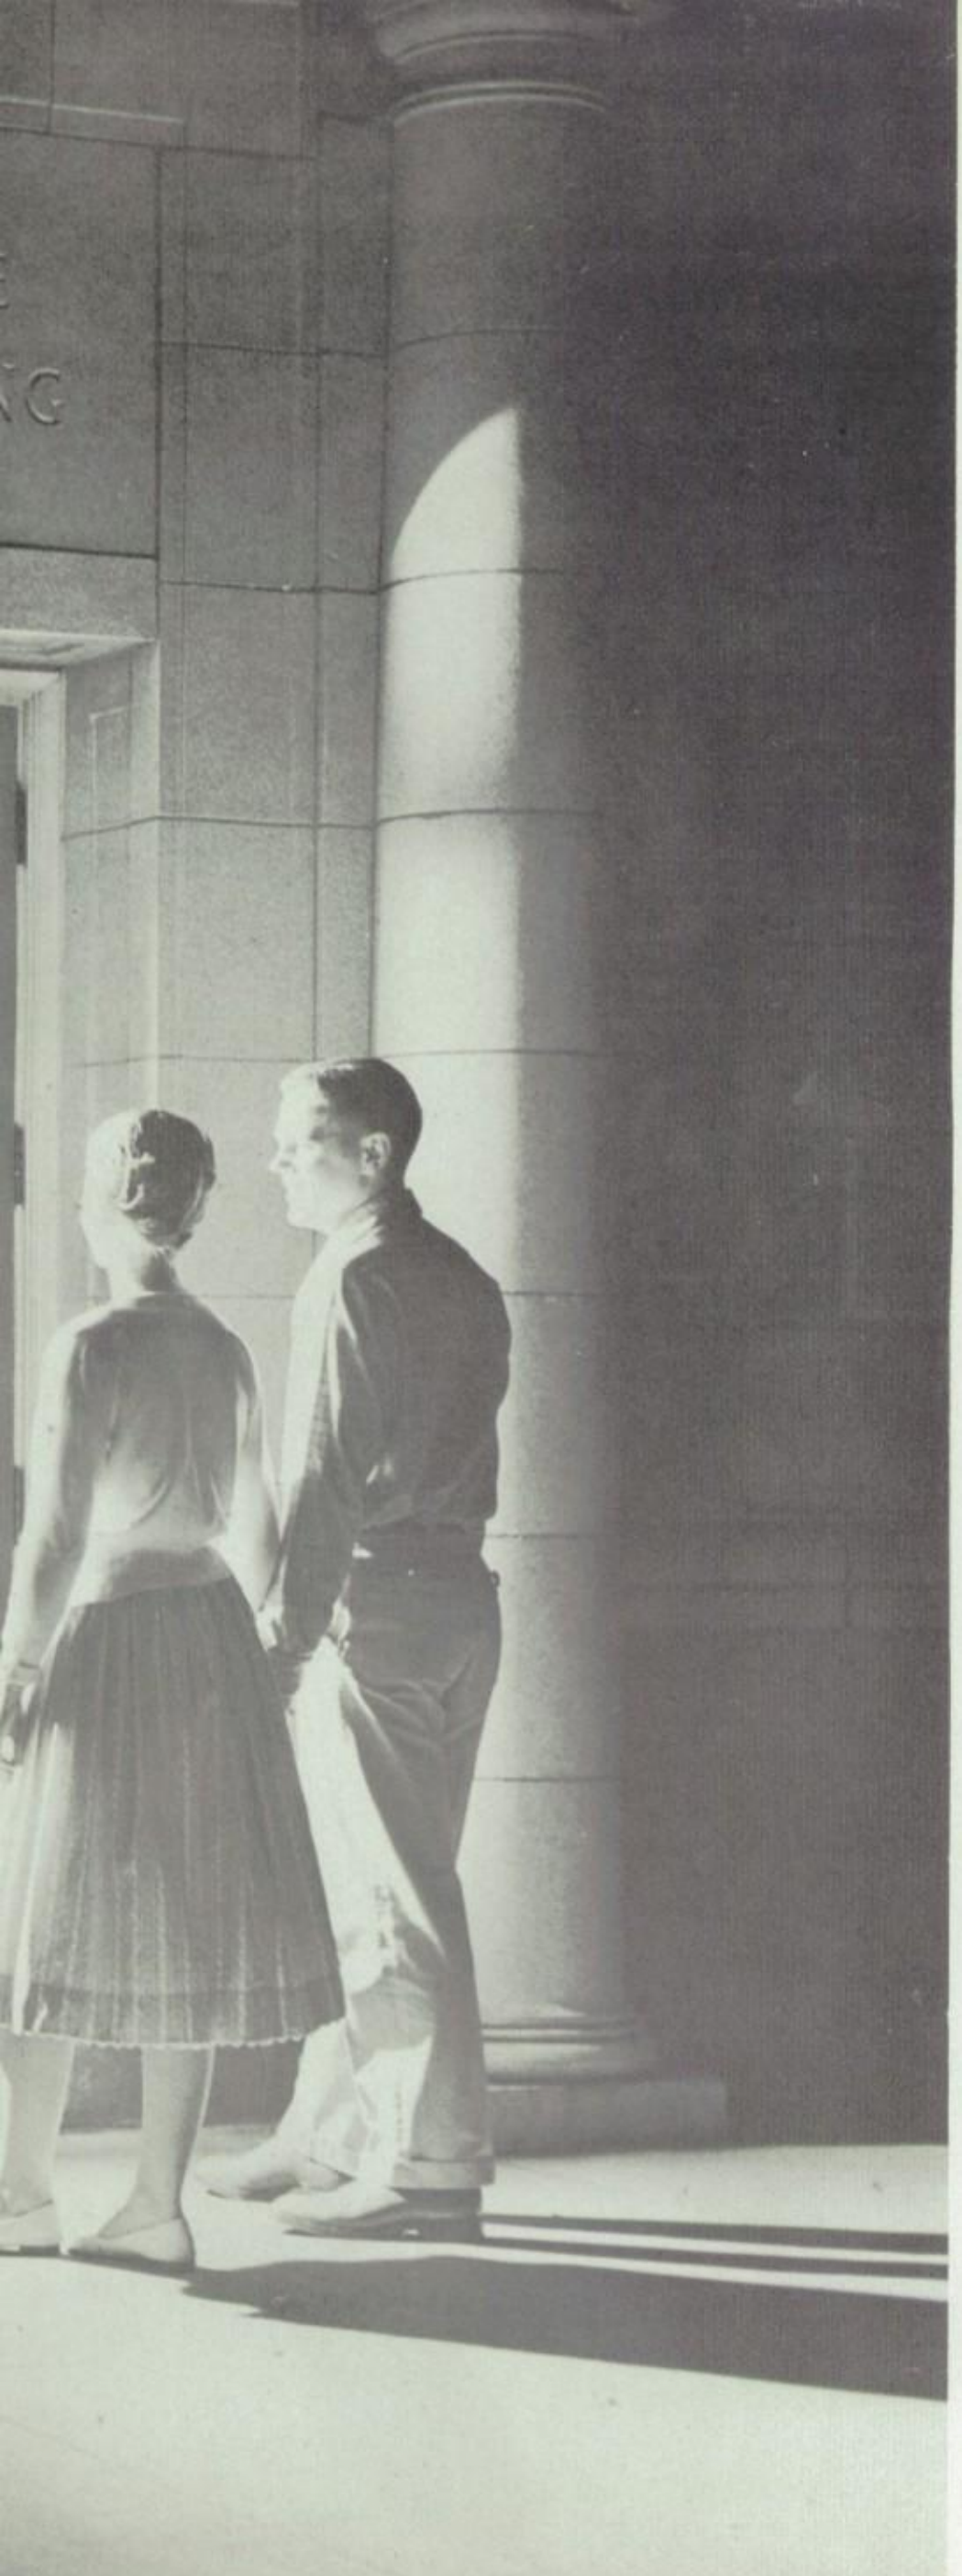
CLEVELAND HIGH SCHOOL

Portland, Oregon

These are your pioneering days—you are young, you are confident, you are full of fun and enthusiasm, and a vast region of undiscovered frontiers are spread before you waiting to be discovered, to be challenged. Like those zealous and steadfast pioneers who pushed westward in an unrelenting pursuit of their goals, you too must pave a path courageously and with undampened spirits toward your individual destinies. These are the days for growing and planning and working toward those glorious goals your minds have set. WHAT YOU ARE TO BE YOU ARE NOW BECOMING.

WHAT YOU ARE TO
YOU ARE NOW BECOM



You are just starting your march into life, and now is the time for determining your course. You are on the verge of a new adventure—one that can be rich and fulfilling if you will only plan your course carefully. Whether or not you will earn the rewards you seek from life will depend on whether you are able to recognize the opportunities that come to you.

At Cleveland you are faced with many opportunities that can be just the beginning of new adventures and discoveries . . . the chance to broaden your mind through literature and science . . . to be a part of a group and thus experience a bond of fellowship with others . . . the chance to become a leader, or perhaps more important —a follower.

Because you have the gift of youth, there are no limits to what you may attain. The sun is only rising on your lives and confidence, expectation, and enthusiasm are yours.

Administration

We are on the brink of an adventure—an adventure into the realm of knowledge and of thought. It is our privilege as high school students to question, to observe, to learn, and to believe—a privilege that is ours to use or abandon. Through our classes we are making discoveries that are only the beginnings of new discoveries. We are developing the mind that we will live with.

Having ended his second year as principal of Cleveland High, Mr. Roy O. Malo has become an integral part of the school.

"Are You Meeting the Challenge?"

What has the school year just passed meant to you? Has it been a time of academic exploration and intellectual development, of participation in physical and social activities, of growth in leadership and followership qualities so basic to responsible citizenship?

Few will question that a tremendous challenge faces today's youth. The need for each of you to think clearly, plan soundly, and act in an intelligent and forthright manner is great.

Are you meeting that challenge?

ROY O. MALO

Vice-Principals Offer Guiding Hands

They were the ones we turned to when our school problems became overwhelming—when we needed a knowing adult to straighten us out. They were also the ones we were sent to when we needed some disciplining, but they handled us in such a way that we still liked and respected them. Miss Helen Bowers and Mr. William Gray, respective deans of girls and boys, were truly what they were supposed to be—friends and counselors to all of us.

We have Miss Maurine Laber to thank in part for those special classes and teachers we've had this year. As head of our curriculum, Miss Laber was kept busy with a variety of tasks ranging from supervising student teachers to experimenting with such programs as educational enrichment and distributive education.

Ken Expresses Gratitude Felt During Fall Term

I could never express all of the sincere sentiment and gratitude which I hold for each and every student at Cleveland and for their cooperation and efforts to better our high school. We have functioned not as individual classes or cliques but as a student body. This is something we take for granted, but it is a tradition to be proud of and to be upheld. My one desire is that the future Cleveland presidents will have as much cooperation and as much to be proud of in their student body as I have had.

Carrot Top Heads Tribe for Spring

In the past four years I have been at Cleveland, improvements in our school government have given us influence and prestige in the running of school affairs.

I feel that I am leaving a wonderful group of friends and I only wish that other people could know you as well as I do. If they did, they would better understand our generation.

Good luck in all your endeavors. May God bless you always . . .

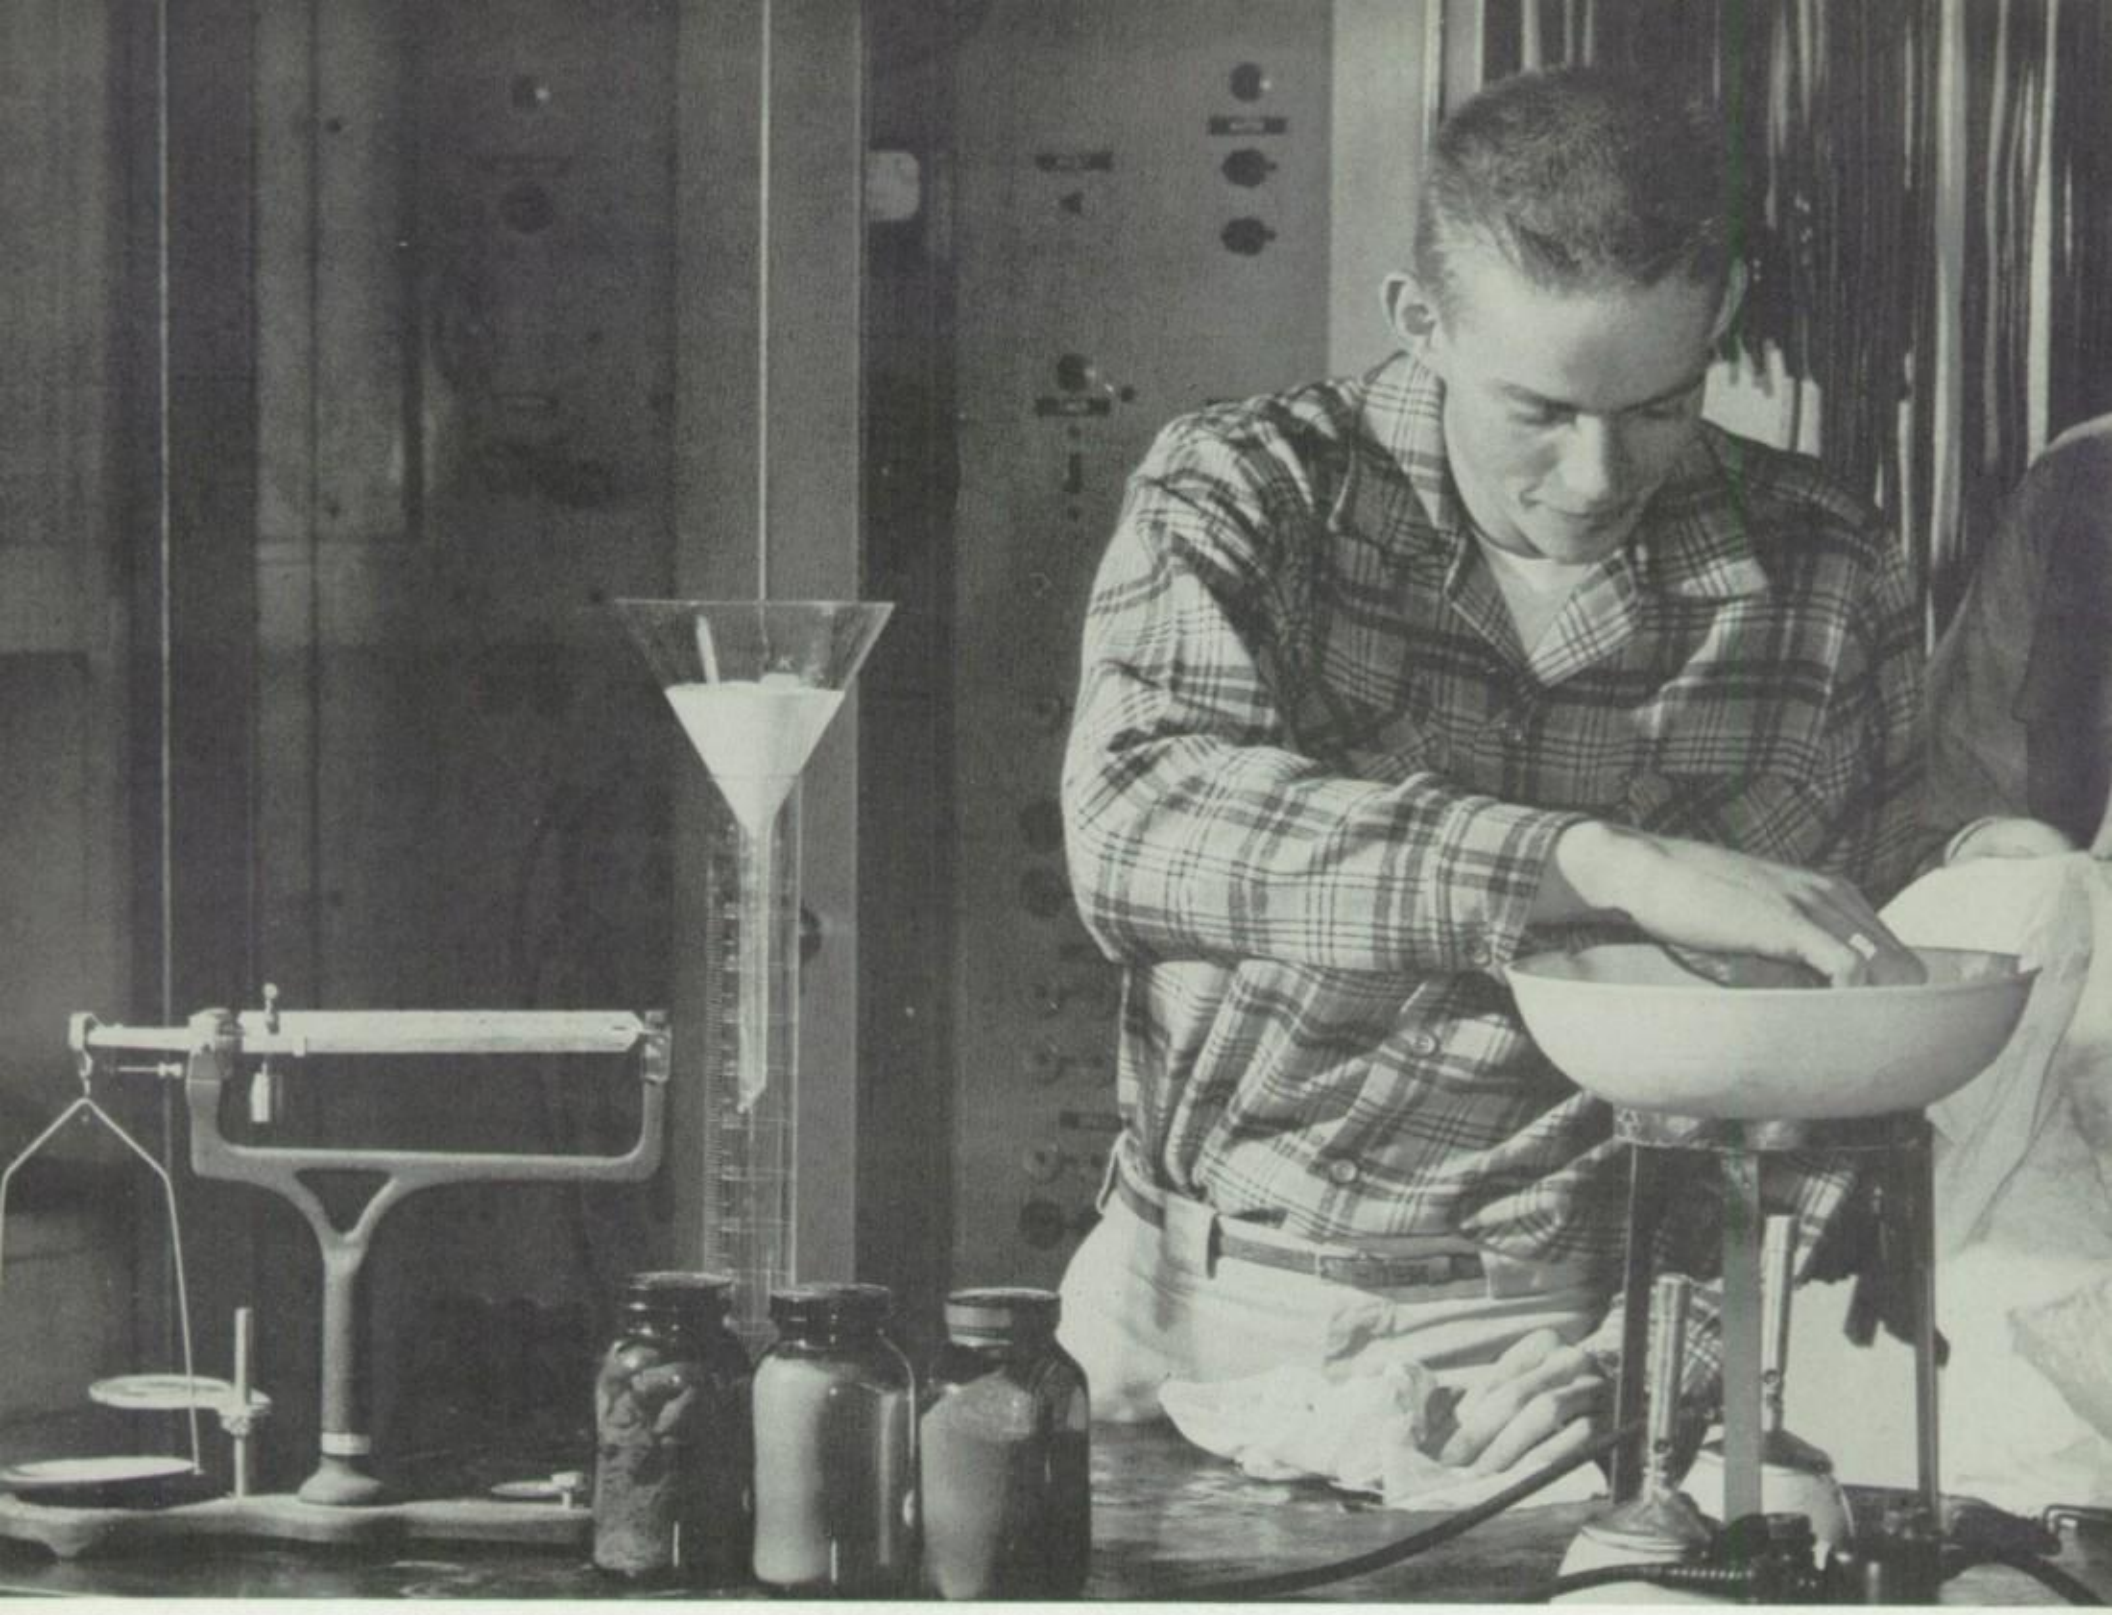
The big issue of the year as far as the student council was concerned was the controversy over the cafeteria. Various suggestions for maintaining a clean cafeteria were brought up by different reg rooms, and the council discussed and voted on them. The final decision was to separate the four classes in sections throughout the cafeteria and to penalize the messiest class by taking away one of their assemblies. The members of the class suffering the penalty would be placed in study halls during the assembly period.

Another big project of the student council was to stage a safe driving campaign. Under this program a special assembly was presented to the student body at which Johnny Carpenter talked. They also initiated a father-son driving contest and a safe-driving poster contest to encourage good driving among the students.

The student council is made up of representatives which are elected from every first period class. They are elected in the spring and fall, and lead by the student body officers.



Growing alum crystals was one of the many absorbing projects performed in the Chemistry classes. Shown here are Pete Roake and John Uhlman cleaning the crystals after removing them from the solution.

Classes Offer Training in Basic Sciences, Skills

Budding scientist, future office worker, prospective linguist, possible politician . . . who knows what the potential of these classes may be?

At Cleveland there are a host of subjects to choose from. Whether it be commercial art or advanced Latin that captures our interest, there is always a class in which we can expand our knowledge and understanding. For those of us who are planning for a business career there are numerous classes of typing, shorthand, office appliances, business law, and bookkeeping. Some of us found our first year biology so fascinating that we enrolled in a special advanced class that turned out more interesting than the first year.

We are not one of the many schools throughout the country that have dropped most of their science and math courses from their curriculum. Cleveland offers classes in not only biology and first year algebra, but general science, chemistry, physics, advanced algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and consumers math.

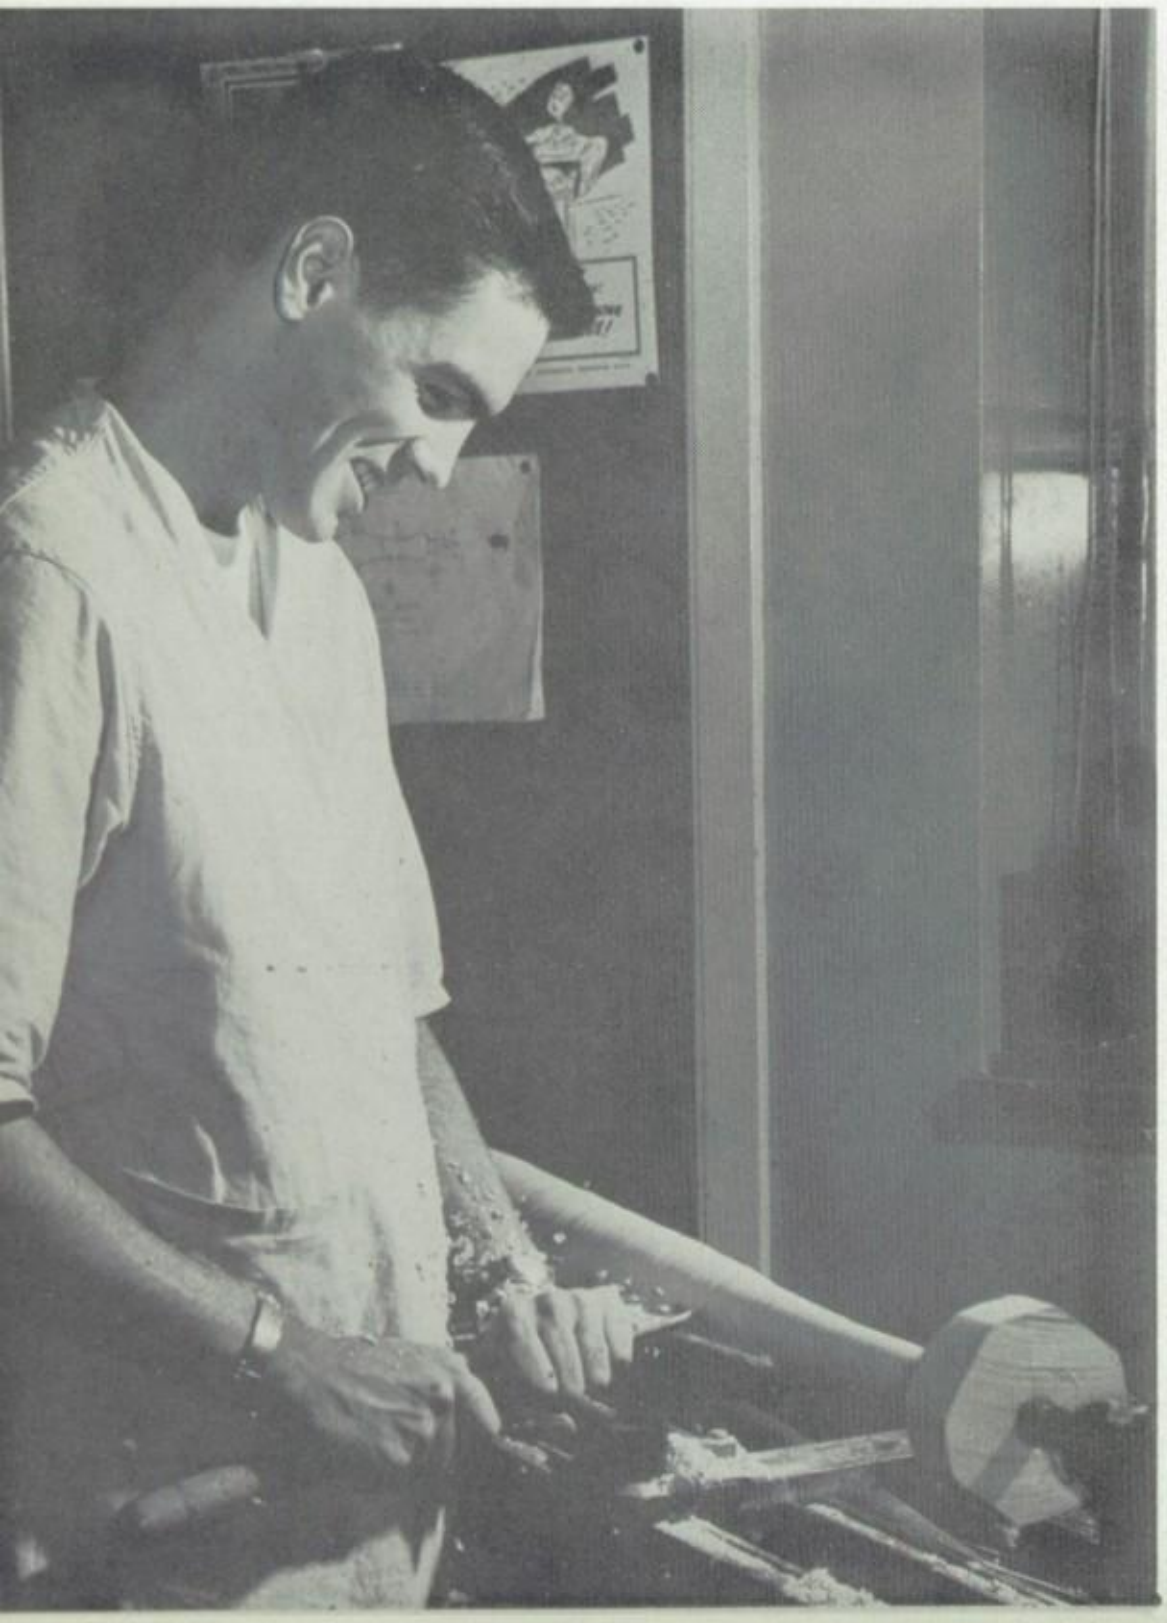
Those who are interested in a foreign language have several choices—Latin, Spanish, French, Russian, or German. Three years of work are offered for most of these.

No matter what our future lives may hold—college, marriage, Work—Cleveland is preparing us for the responsibilities we must face.

All indications of squeamishness are absent as these sophomores work intently on the dissection of a frog.

Working on the various office appliances that Cleveland provides offers valuable experience to students seeking business careers.

The comical little animals that won the students' hearts when they were later placed in the display cases are having the final touches put on them by Katherine Dressler and Betty Mahoney, metal arts students.



Students Build for Future Through "Skill Classes"

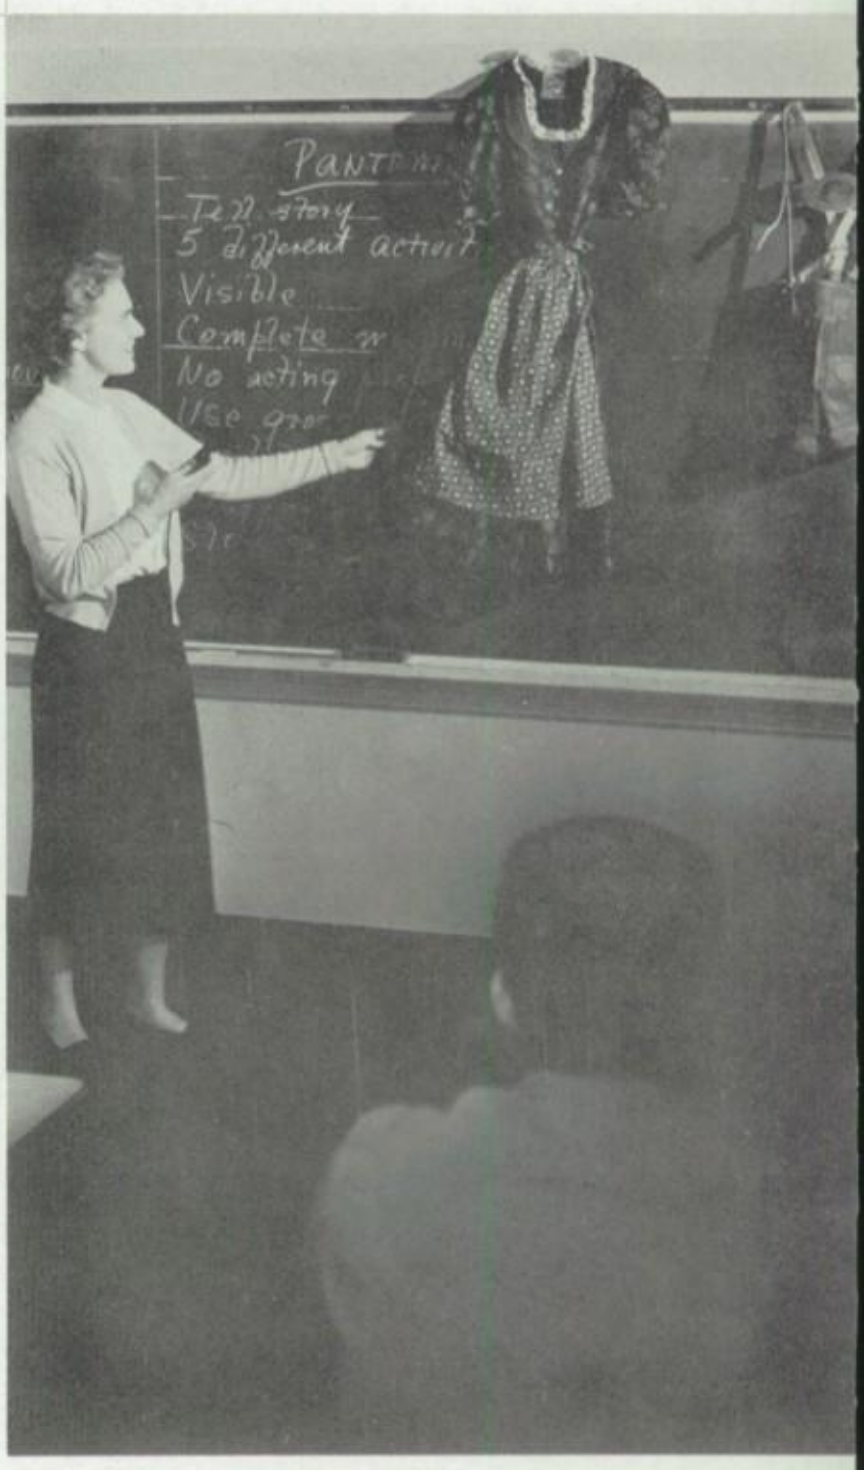
Practical projects are emphasized in industrial arts. Here Ivan Kafoury turns out a baseball bat.

Girls agree that the boys' homemaking class should be a permanent part of every boy's curriculum. Here the boys learn to upholster their own chairs—a skill that will be valuable in years to come.

Girls rival boys in feats of physical skill through P.E. classes. Here Delores Carroll does the spread eagle stunt.

English and social studies are skillfully co-ordinated in freshman core classes.

n innovation at Cleveland was the effective reading classes which proved be a worthwhile aid in increasing speed and comprehension in reading. Here students are shown practicing with the aid of accelerators.

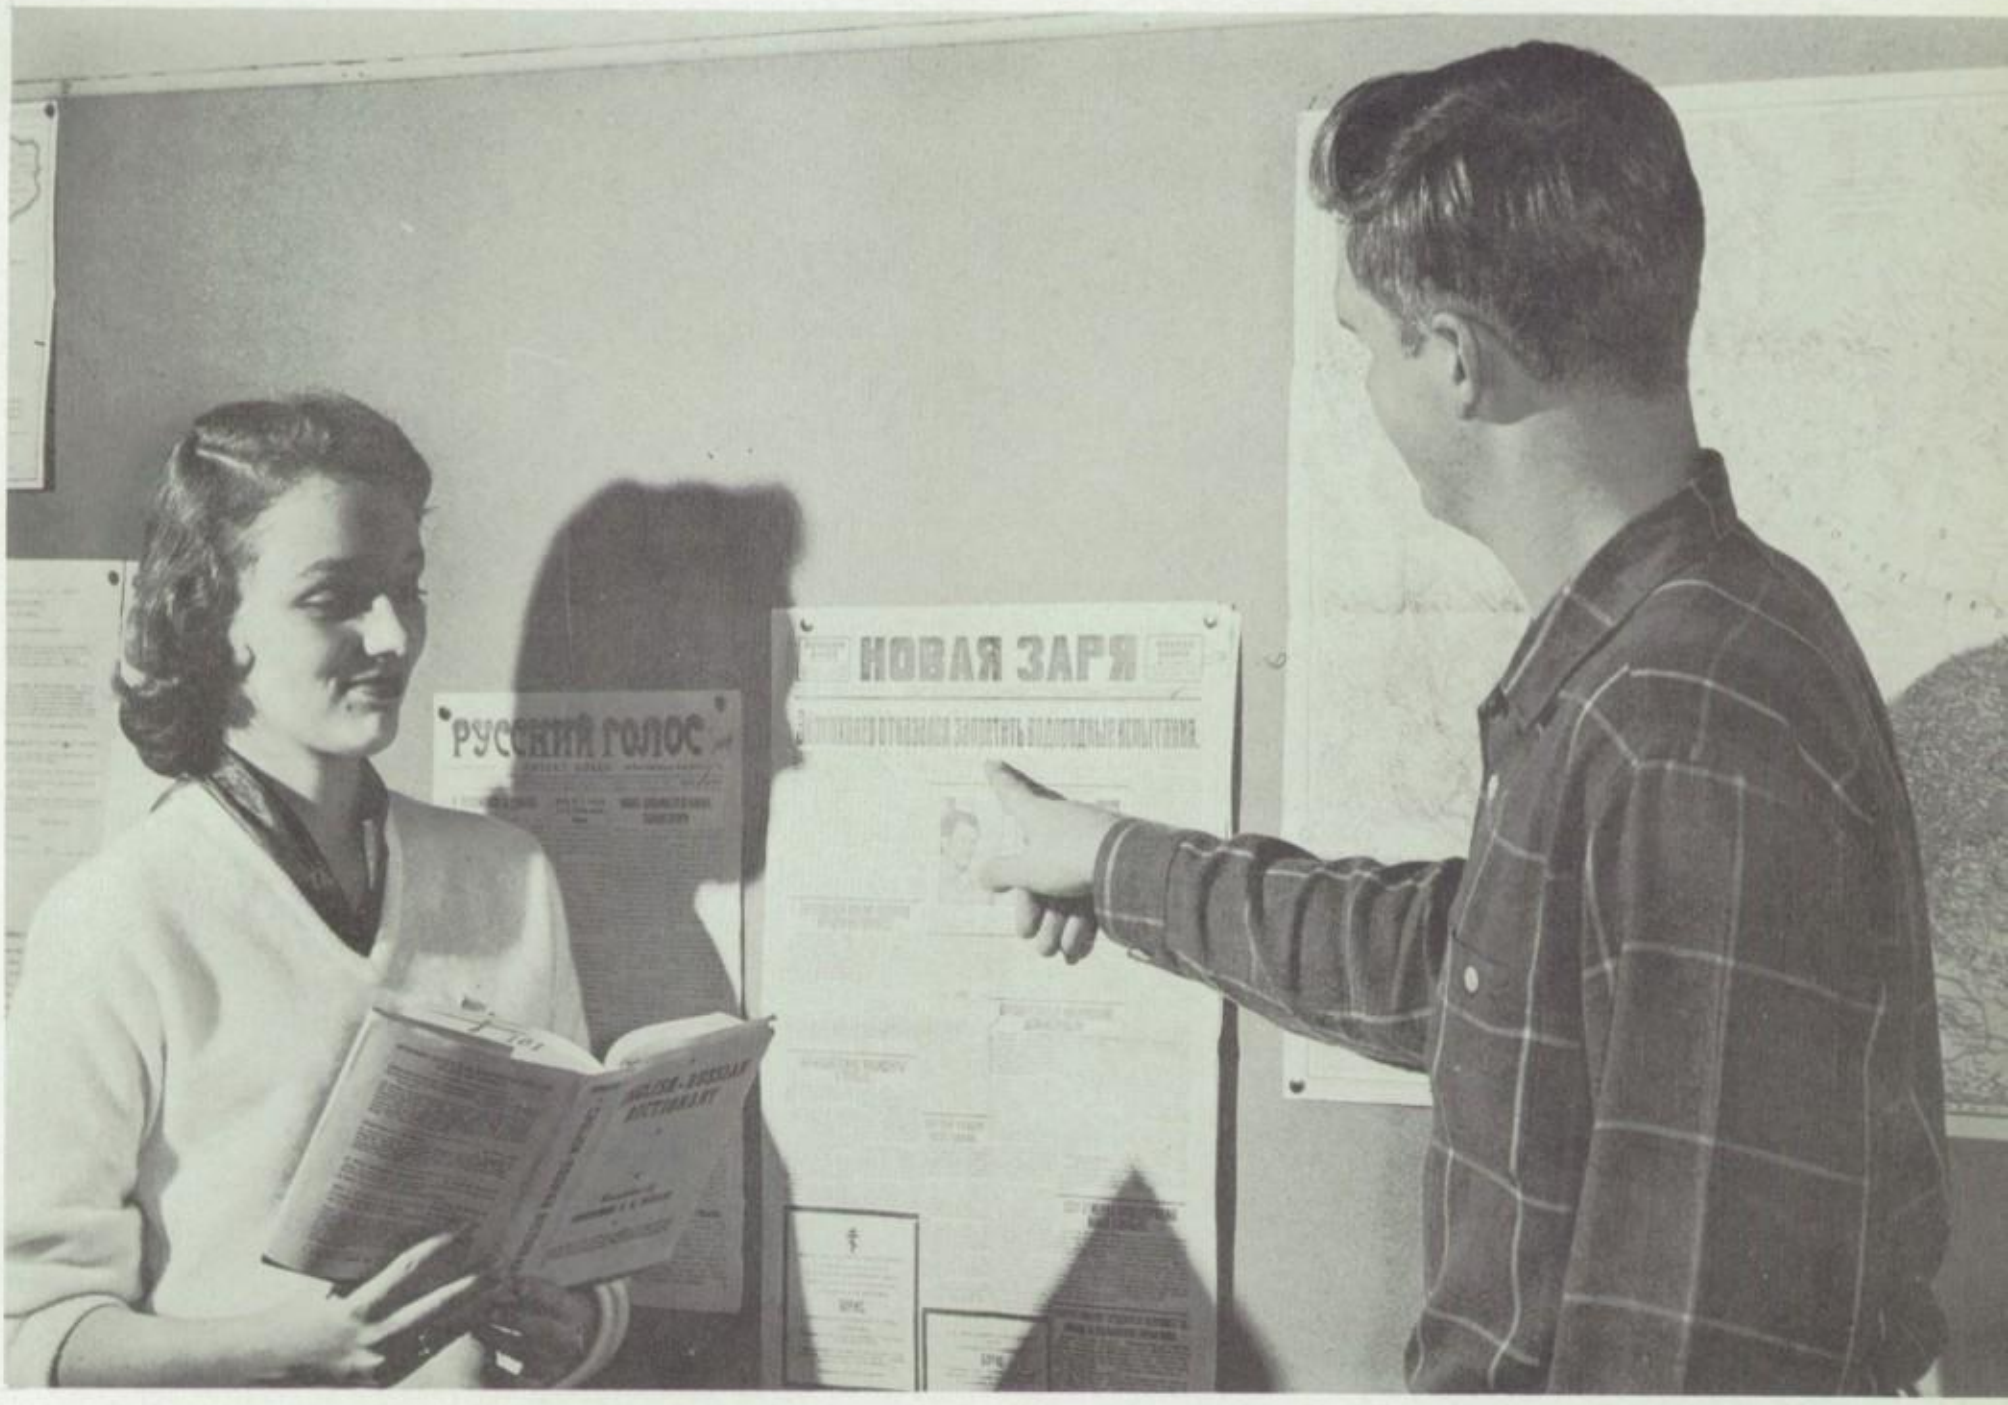


American Field Service representative, Barbara Buckhorn, explains the native dress of Germany to her public speaking class.

A tense air hung about the school as the students waited for the dismissal bell, the last dismissal bell of the year! It has an extra special meaning to each student; school is almost finished for another year and a three months' vacation is awaiting each student.

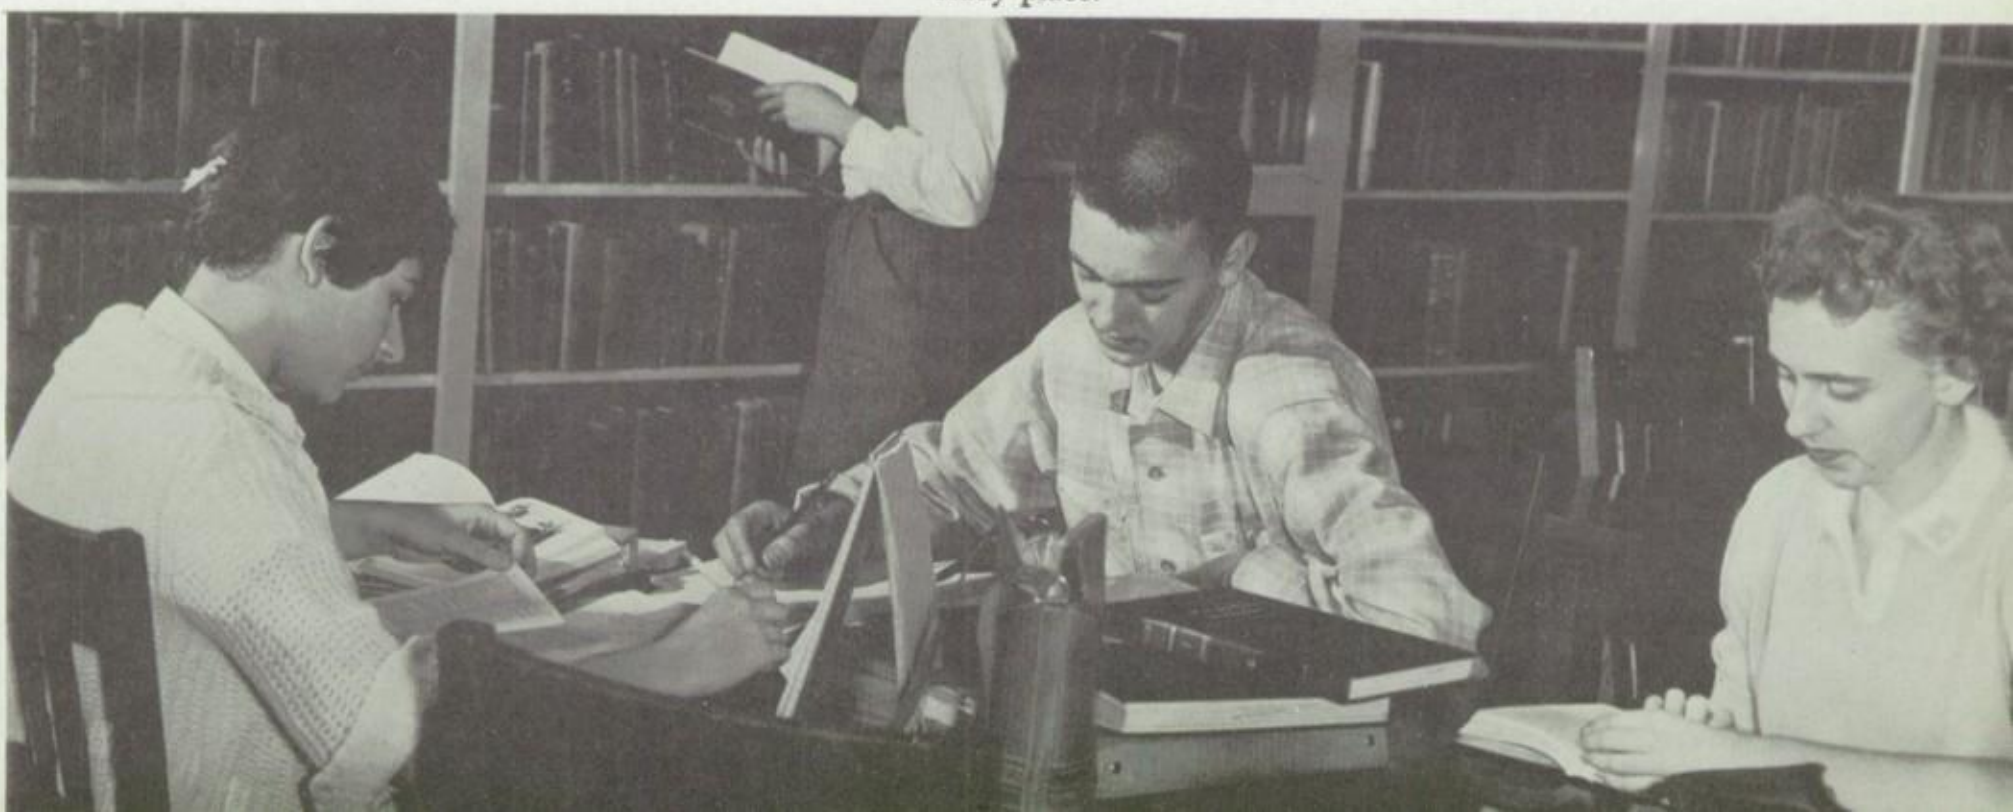
However there comes a time when, in the midst of the last-of-the-year hub-bub and excitement, we stop and think more seriously about our classes. We remember the first few days in chemistry—learning that molecules are composed of atoms and that a meter equals ten decimeters, and we realize how far we've come since then. And how difficult it seemed at first to conjugate "amo, amare"; now we can translate Caesar's works. It is now that the real purpose of school becomes clear to us. We have complained about homework incessantly and argued about grades, but in the meantime—and sometimes perhaps against our will—we have acquired a knowledge that has made us better prepared to cope with many of the problems that will face us throughout life.

Language Classes Basis for All School Work



Cleveland is fortunate in being one of the few high schools in the United States to offer a course in the Russian language. JoAnne Miller and Gary Hoagland read a Russian newspaper, the New Dawn, while consulting a Russian-English dictionary.

One of the busiest rooms in the building is the library, supplying many fine books and a quiet study place.



Student Body

When we have had our first taste of achievement it will simply be an appetizer for greater things. For we are just beginning to realize the marvels of life—the sun is just rising, and we are filled with the joy of expectation and the thrill of living.

Looking over announcements are senior class officers Dick Forcum, sgt-at-arms, Bonnie Boyd, secretary.

Seniors Reminisce About Four Years at Cleveland

It's hard to believe that in a few short days we will no longer be a part of Cleveland, that Cleveland will drop out of our lives, and those four years that seemed to be such an inseparable part of us will remain only as a memory. It's hard to believe that many of those familiar faces we've seen every day for four years will suddenly vanish from our lives. For four solid years our whole lives have been centered around Cleveland. It almost seems impossible that one quick trip across the stage, a handshake, an a diploma can be the closing of it all.

However, the memories of these years at Cleveland will rush back to us often . . .

Our Freshie Frolic—the excitement of having our own Freshie Court with Carol Dutton and Walter Popiel as Queen and King . . . the thrill of moving into the sophomore section in the auditorium and being with all the other full-fledged Clevelandites . . . the 1954-55 basketball tournament where we won third in "State," thanks to Dick Jolly, Harvey Jones, Jay Bashor, and the others . . . the sad departure of our much-loved principal, Mr. Rein Jackson, and the jubilant acceptance of our new principal, Mr. Roy O. Malo . . . our five contributions to Rhododendron courts—Princesses Sharon Bell, Lou Jean Rosevear, Kay Manning, Dorothy Noren, and Queen Kathy Phegley . . . our Junior Prom, "Stairway to the Stars"—the first successful junior prom in Cleveland's history . . . the selection of Gardner Patton and Barbara Buckhorn as American Field Service exchange students . . . Susan Gregg, national winner of Oddfellows speech contest . . . the confusion of getting senior class pictures taken . . . the thrill of our long-awaited senior prom.

In a few days we will be leaving all of this behind us, but no matter what the future will find us doing, these memories will always be a part of us.

Gisle, Gardner, Barbara Further World Friendship

The American Field Service realizes that one of the best ways to create a feeling of friendliness between nations is to give the youth of the world a chance to live with their neighbors in other lands. In this way they learn to know each other as individuals, and inevitably realize that humans are the same all over the world, and differ only in their customs and languages.

Cleveland participates wholeheartedly in the American Field Service program. Last summer Cleveland sent Barbara Buckhorn and Gardner Patton to Europe where they lived with the native people. Now they not only have a better understanding of our foreign neighbors, but they have also passed that understanding on to their friends.

Cleveland is also on the receiving end of this program. Each year an exchange student from some foreign country comes to live with some Cleveland student. This year our exchange student is Gisle Hollekim from Norway, living with the family of Russ and Mike Allen.

Barbara Buckhorn and Gardner Patton show each other some of the relics they picked up in Europe last summer as Cleveland's exchange students.

Foreign Students Make Home at Cleveland

Cleveland has been very privileged during the past several years by being host to Portland's non-English speaking students. Most of these students, though being in America only a short time, have become an integral part of the school. Though most of them stay in room 205 all day with their teacher, Miss Harding, they are involved in a variety of extra curricular groups ranging everywhere from International Club to Freshie Court. It is an honor and an opportunity to be able to get to know these students.

A rich bond of fellowship develops between the students as they work together throughout the day learning not only English but how to be good Americans.

Starting for their prom are junior officers Barbara Yeomans, secretary, Dick Schmidt, sgt-at-arms, Eddie Kimura, vice-president, Barbara Huffschmidt, treasurer, Bill McKinley, sgt-at-arms, and Rick Alper, president.

Juniors Plan for Biggest, Best Prom Yet

"Don't the freshmen look young this year? I wonder if we looked that young three years ago."

"I suppose. But it's hard to imagine that three years can do so much. It seems like just yesterday that we were freshmen."

"Doesn't it though? And just think—in only a year we'll be almighty seniors!"

"You know, I hope our Junior Prom goes off real well this year."

"Me too. I think we'll probably have a good turnout, though."

"I sure hope so. Say, why don't we get on a committee for it?"

"It would sure be fun, wouldn't it?"

"It really would! Let's try to get on one, huh?"

"Yeah, let's."

Sophomores Explore Vocational Opportunities Through English Classes

Sophomore class officers Walter Evans, treasurer, Larry Meyers, president, John Morrison, vice-president, and Jeanne Knight, secretary, look over the Kuder Interest tests that all sophomores must take.

"Wow! I thought my freshman year was rough! I've got twice as much homework as I ever did last year."

"I know, me too. I have to stay up till twelve every night!"

"Every night! No kidding?"

"Well, not every night, really. But I did stay up that late once."

"Guess what! I got a bid to the Amikki Formal!"

"Oh, how neat! I sure wish I were going!"

"Now all I've got to worry about is who to ask. There's a boy in my algebra class, but I'm afraid to ask him. This is my first formal, you know."

"Yeah, I know. What are you going to wear?"

"I don't know yet. Mother's picking me up tonight and we're going shopping. Oh, there she is now."

"See you tomorrow!"

"Bye."

Freshies Uncertainly Proclaim Arrival at Cleveland

Freshman class officers Janet Candioto, secretary-treasurer, Ron Gomez, sgt.-at-arms, Dick Johnson, President, and John Bagg, vice-president, gaze respectfully up at Cleveland. Not pictured—David Davenport.

"Isn't that fabulous! A juke box right in the school!"

"And milk shakes and coke machines! Boy, this sure beats grade school!"

"Say, what's this about a Freshie Frolic?"

"Oh, that's a deal the seniors give every year for the freshmen, I guess. I think the seniors are supposed to dance with us or something."

"Oh! I don't know if I want to go or not. Those seniors scare me!"

"I don't know—I have a senior in my Latin class and she's real nice. I don't think they're really as mean as they're cracked up to be."

"Well, maybe not. Oh-oh! I've got to run or I'll be late for my class! Yeah! Bye!"

Activities

Knowledge may give strength to the fabric of our high school experience, but it is fun, excitement, and enthusiasm that lends to the cloth its brilliant hue. Through our various activities we are brightening our personalities and learning to work and have fun with others.

Seniors Throw Doors Open to Freshmen

Queen Elizabeth Marto turns a beaming face up to her king, Larry Bruun, shortly after their coronation in the auditorium.

It was an ordinary rainy Oregon night to most people, but to several hundred Cleveland freshmen September 29 was a very special date. On that night the seniors were nice to them for a change. Why? Because the rules say that on that night seniors must be nice to freshmen.

The audience of freshmen and seniors was breathless with anticipation as they waited for the curtains to open and reveal King Larry, Queen Elizabeth and their court.

First on the program for the evening was a variety show, and what there wasn't in it, "isn't." Charlestons, Eloises, Goofuses, and, of all things, a hilarious fashion show of senior boys dressed in the girls' fashions of the day. (One question please—who's calendar were they using?) Then there was the dance. The freshmen girls had fun because of the senior boys, and the senior girls because of the senior boys, and all the boys because of the free refreshments. Numbers were drawn, partners found (some anyway), and dancing was begun by Queen Elizabeth, King Larry and their court.

1956 Freshie Court: Art MacEwan, Pat Huffschmidt, John Kuzmanich, Sherrie West, King Larry Bruun, Queen Elizabeth Marto, Bob McKinley, Nancy Case, Philip Miller, Linda Bloomquist.

Charming is the word for these bathing suits modeled by Misses Mike Vidos and Mike Watson in the "boys" fashion show.

Top—Mike Watson sings for audience of freshies and seniors. Bottom—Sh-Boom!—by "Crew Cuts"?

Tom Ballen; Mike Watson; Mike Vidos, King of Hearts; Ernie Harris; Jay Maxwell. Mike was crowned during the intermission by Meredith Mundorff, president of Trolee.

King of Hearts Dance: Senior Boys Venture Into Realm of Royalty

Barbara Huffschmidt Crowned First "Sweetheart of Sigma Phi"

Taking the spotlight during the first annual "Sweetheart of Sigma Phi Ball" was Barbara Huffschmidt, junior. The announcement was made during the dance and Barbara was presented with two dozen roses and a bracelet engraved "Sweetheart of Sigma Phi."

The best loved part of the Christmas program was, as always, the processional. As the A Capella choir came down the aisles, blending their voices in "Angels We Have Heard on High," every student felt a surge of reverent joy.

Weakened again by the pleadings of a lowly slave girl! By selling his last jewel for her freedom, the "Other Wiseman" lost any chance of ever giving a gift to the Savior.

Humor, Drama, Carols Usher in Yule

"Verily I say unto you, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

A tense air of expectancy hung over the auditorium. This was the Christmas program—the climax to a whole exciting week, and the most anticipated assembly of the year.

The loud burr of voices dwindled down to an excited hush as the lights were dimmed and the first magical strains of the orchestra were heard. Then —the moment everyone had been waiting for—the curtains were drawn to reveal a lodge packed with skiers. After much joking and singing, the curtains were closed so the stage could be cleared for the serious part of the program—the play, "The Other Wiseman," and the carols sung by the choir.

The program was closed with the traditional Hallelujah Chorus and the students went back to their classes, happy and inspired with the true spirit of Christmas.

"There's your old treasure," says Mrs. Savage indignantly while the others look on in amazement.

"I want to hear this woman talk," says Samuel to the non-talkative Mrs. Paddy.

"Curious Savage" Draws Full House

"I find it harder to find where reason ends and madness begins," were the words of Dr. Emmett which summed up the overall meaning of one of the best plays ever to be given on Cleveland's stage.

"The Curious Savage," a sympathetic comedy, was centered around "The Cloisters," a home for the insane. The "guests" at the home captured the hearts of all who saw the play—Fairy May, who constantly craved love, Hannibal, who liked to think he could play the violin, Florence, who mothered a stuffed doll, Jeffrey, who was really the husband of the nurse, and dear old Mrs. Paddy, who hated "everything in the WHOLE WORLD, but most of all—"

All sorts of things began happening when Ethel Savage, a wealthy old widow played by Barbara Babler, was sent to the Cloisters by her enraged offspring. The climax of the play came when Mrs. Savage found she might leave the Cloisters, but suddenly realized the insanities of the outside world.

Right: "What will happen to me now?" asks Mrs. Savage, when she is brought to the "Cloisters". Below: Members of play cast were Karel King, Val Schultz, Charlie Brown, Linda Baucom, Gary Robinson, Barbara Buckhorn, Barbara Babler, Helen Richmond, Don Bartholemew, Marianne Faveluke and Homer Todd.

Royal C Queen, Marsha McGuire.

"And now I would like to announce your 1956 Royal C queen . . . Marsha McGuire!" .To the accompaniment of loud applause from the crowd, the new queen was presented with a crown of white chrysanthemums and pink roses by Royal C President Jerry Cook. Then Queen Marsha and her court, made up of four other senior girls, were escorted down to the floor by their dates and dancing was begun to the musical strains of the Mellowtones.

Brand-new dresses and beaming faces characterized the Royal C "Football". The dance is an annual semiformal affair sponsored by the lettermen of the school in honor of the football team. Couples found the gym transformed by crepe paper and unusual lighting due to the many hours of hard work put in beforehand by Royal C boys.

The first big dance of the year came to a close to the tune of "I'll See You in My Dreams", and the couples left for eating places or private parties.

Princesses Kay Manning, Sharon Johnson, Marilyn Hoth, Queen Marsha McGuire, and Princess Sue Wilson.

Royal C Dance Honors Court, Football Team

The coke corner was a popular spot throughout the dance.

A variety of dance steps, ranging from the waltz to the "Portland Walk", added to the interest of the traditional Royal C Ball.

Votes were cast for queen as each couple entered the gymnasium.

Girls Take Lead as Twirp Week Commences

Why the blissful look on every boy's face and the tired and worn-out look in every girl's eye? It's Twirp Week, sheer joy for every Cleveland boy, but utter torture for every girl. This is the week when girls must take over all the manly repsonsibilities—opening doors, carrying books, and saying "Hi" first.

Then comes the fitting climax to all of this activity—the Twirp Dance. As soon as the girls have mustered up enough courage to ask that boy they've had a crush on since last spring, and the boy has muttered a reassuring "Sure, I guess so," the costume planning begins.

Finally the clock strikes twelve, which means that Twirp Week is over for another year and all girls may go home to bed and start resting up for the next one.

War dances of the Kikapoo Indians never looked like this. Samples of everything from Bop to the Portland walk were exhibited at the most popular dance of the year, which is sponsored annually by Amikki.

The highpoint of the evening comes when the "King and Queen of the Twirps" is announced and the elite couple takes their place on garbage can thrones. Lou Jean Rosevear and Jay Maxwell won the competition this year.

"Anything goes" is the age-old rule for costuming. Anyone who turns up wearing anything even slightly decent is highly scorned.

"Why don't you girls go up to the shop and carve each other up with a buzz saw!" says Jackie, played by Karel King, to the gang of girls at the "settlement house."

"Come on, father, HIT ME! the punchin' bag's back home!" Upon arriving home from reform school, Dino is given the old treatment by his father, played by Chuck D'Ambrosia.

Emotion, Suspense Make "Dino" Most Talked-About Play of Year

"Hey—Go, man, GO!" Dino is teased by one of the "greasers" at the settlement house as he makes his first attempt to learn to dance. Shirley assures him that "They're not laughing at us—really!"

Packed to the brim with excitement and tense emotional scenes, "Dino" was a production that Cleveland won't forget for a long time.

Dino, played by Gary Robinson, is a sixteen-year-old juvenile delinquent who killed a man when he was twelve. When the play opens, he has just been released from reform school and has just been brought to the attention of the psychiatrist at the "settlement house." Dino finds that he is thought of by everybody as a "crazy celebrity or somethin'," and rebels at the idea. He finds friendship with shy, unattractive Shirley, played by Janet Stewart; a friendship that turns out to be the only real thing in his life. Finding that someone really likes him and doesn't care about what mistakes he's made in the past, all the spontaneous goodness within Dino comes into the open, and the play ends with Dino trying to keep his younger brother, Tony, from turning out like him.

Some of those not pictured were the psychiatrist, played by Charlie Brown, Miss Haines, the social worker, played by Kay St. James, Dino's younger brother, Tony, played by Don MacAllister, and his mother, played by Marilyn Pike.

Orchestra Offers Music at Christmas Program

Under the inspiring leadership of Robert Kerns, the orchestra has successfully participated in many activities throughout the year.

During the Christmas season the choir and orchestra joined in presenting a program for the students and public. Other highspots for the orchestra this year were playing in the May Music Festival, City Music Festival, Operetta, and at graduation.

Martin Faveluke led the group as president. He was assisted by Judy Leigh, as vice-president, and Retha Pickett, as secretary-treasurer.

The Cleveland band under the able leadership of Robert Kerns made a good showing this year by supporting the school's activities and voluntarily playing at all home basketball and football games.

At Christmas time they played in a program for the students and parents, which also featured the orchestra and choir. Other public performances included the all-city band concert, city band festival, and marching in the Fairy Tale and Rose Parades.

Individual members received the chance to shine when the band participated in the solo and ensemble contest at the state tournament.

The students were constantly being met this year with various money-making projects, such as candy and cake sales, paper and scrap drives, and a pop concert and dance. The money received went toward new uniforms to replace the aged ones that had almost become a school tradition in their own right.

A council composed of seniors and officers governed the various projects of the band. Curtis Sumpter was the president with David Sturmer assisting as veep, and Judy Banks as sec.-treas.

The Indian Dance Band has played at various concerts, shows, and dances throughout Portland. Curtis Sumpter acted as Master of Ceremonies and business manager; David Sturmer led the group as director.

The A Cappella choir, scintillating and active as always, still remained the dominant choral group of the school.

Under the directorship of Bruce Johnson the choir has presented many wonderful programs. This year the operetta, "Brigadoon," was the biggest and most satisfying project undertaken by this group. Other projects were the Christmas program, Lincoln assembly, appearing on television, numerous benefit appearances, May Music Festival, and singing at graduation.

These activities were under the direction of officers Homer Todd as president, John Davenport, veep, Nancy Ewart, secretary, and Phyllis Bauman, treasurer.

This year a girls' quartet was formed and given the name, "The Couquettes."

Blotter Staff Acquires New Advisor

"Say, who can help with make-up tonight?"

"Has anyone proofed galley 9?"

"Who's got the Rhododendron Show head?"

The minute you step into room 223, you're in another world—a fast-moving world of make-up, copy, galleys, heads, ears, and morgues. The conversation therein may leave the typical Clevelandite rather confused, for, indeed, these words are indicative of the training and skill which every staff member must possess.

The main addition to the Blotter Staff this year was that of Miss Lois Rankin. She replaced Miss Beatrice Westoff as advisor. Miss Westoff had previously been advisor of the Blotter for eight years.

The Blotter has been a newspaper to be proud of for a long time. It has achieved two placings in the National Scholastic Press Association Competition.

Legend Staff–Aims and Spirits High

"Hey, who took my typing eraser?"
"Mr. Gilkey, this picture's too small!"
"DON'T WRITE ON THAT PICTURE!!"

With people running through the room, blue pencils, layout sheet, or paste bottle in hand, everyone else shouting for the attention of the frustrated editors or business manager, and Mr. Gilkey in the midst of all of it tearing out his hair, one might be tempted to cross his fingers and hope the Legend would turn out to be even half what they expected.

There was a plan behind all of this activity, however. The plan was to turn out a top-flight book, and the challenge of accomplishing such a goal kept the staff working diligently during and after school. A long sigh of relief was uttered by every staff member when March finally came and they settled into less strenuous activities such as putting out a student guide and working on the summer supplement.

Artists for the book were Dan Potter, Marilyn Renoud, and Everett Edwards.

Pom Poms Familiar Sight to Deltoria Girls

Pom poms, pom poms, and more pom poms! This is what Deltoria girls see from the time they organize in early fall until their last meetings in the spring. The full responsibility of making pom poms for the jamboree rests upon these girls, and they work diligently at it not only before the current year's jamboree, but also afterwards in order to substantiate the next year's supply.

Deltoria is an interest club for freshman and sophomore girls, and is connected with Sorosis, an interest club for junior and senior girls. Together, Deltoria and Sorosis form what might correspond to a Girls' League in other schools.

I. R. L. Sends Twenty Delegates to "Model U. N. Assembly"

After being stuffed with hot dishes, bread, pickles, cookies, ice cream, and all sorts of delicious things at their annual potluck, International Club members settled down to listen to Fred Stenkamp and Ruth Widmayer, who gave them pointers about the coming state conference in Eugene. After listening to them, the members went into the social rooms and played familiar games, such as "fruit basket upset" and many more.

Besides having the potluck, the International Club had the annual Christmas Program put on by Miss Harding's non-English speaking class, contributed to the Hungarian Relief Fund, held a picture contest, participated in the State Conference in Eugene, were hosts for the Model United Nations Regional meeting held at the library at which J. Cudd Brown and Carl Koburger spoke, and put out International's newspaper, the IC News.

One of the most exciting assemblies of the year (for the ones who are in it, anyway) is the induction of new members into the National Honor society, and the awarding of pins to the senior members. Then for the next three days, numerous National Honor Society pins are seen being happily "flashed around" by proud owners.

Only junior and senior students are admitted to the club; those students with a 1.6 grade average or better are eligible.

Royal C Works Toward Better Assembly Conduct

Mention the words "Royal C" to any Cleveland student and probably one of two things would come to mind—either the Royal C dance or a vision of someone getting kicked out of an assembly. For, though Royal C is an honorary club for varsity lettermen, they are as active as most social or service clubs.

The Royal C dance, with its court of senior girls, is one of the biggest and best-attended dances of the year. It is held annually in the gym, and is semi-formal. The most exciting moment of the evening comes when the Royal C queen is announced and is crowned by the fall president.

The Royal C ushers have made themselves very well known this year by strictly seeing to it that conduct in the assemblies corresponded with the rules set up by last year's student council. The increasingly good behavior in assemblies seemed to be a direct result of their work.

Besides these two activities, Royal C lettermen took charge of selling cokes at all of the school games, and held their annual feed for graduating senior lettermen.

Sorosis Membership Rises to Two Hundred Girls

The most popular interest club as far as junior and senior girls are concerned is Sorosis. Made up of approximately two hundred members, Sorosis carries on two main projects during the year—their annual style show and the presentation of a trophy to the outstanding senior boy and girl. Besides these projects which Sorosis accomplishes as a whole, the six individual chapters promote smaller projects of their own. These activities range anywhere from making scrapbooks for veterans to knitting squares for afghans.

"Roll On, Columbia, Roll On!" Whenever Cleveland students hear this song they will think of the national assembly where Earl Robertson, well-known composer, sang and accompanied himself on the guitar and piano to the tunes of various folk songs.

"The Importance of Being Ernest" brought laughs galore from the audience. Done completely in an English accent, the play involved two bachelors who called themselves by the fake name of Ernest, and their fiancees who were actually marrying them for their name alone.

Entertainment, Education Mark Year's Assemblies

The warning assembly bell rings and everyone crowds to the doors of their classrooms as harried teachers call them back. Then the second bell rings and suddenly the halls are teeming with students running towards the auditorium doors. The assembly may turn out to be films by the Audubon society, a safety program put on by the student council, or the preview of a forthcoming student body play.

One of the best-loved assemblies of the year is the one put on by Cleveland's choir. This year's choir assembly contained a tribute to Sigmund Romburg and several selections by the Coquettes, the girls' quartet which took second place in the Northwest's Barber Shop Quartet contest.

Few people will forget the pep assembly which featured Fabulous Frantic Freeman of Jefferson and her team of Mungy Manning, Slimy Sue, Pee Wee Peterson, Dopey Dutton and Bomber Betzer.

From the Portland State Choir to Mr. Quaker to the Portland Symphony the assemblies provided worthwhile entertainment throughout the year.

Mystic yellow ghosts haunted the Thespian's Halloween assembly as they prowled around to the tune of Greig's "In the Hall of the Mountain King."

"Is there anyone who didn't get any Twirp Dance tickets?"

"Say, I didn't get any, and three girls have promised to buy one from me."

"Boy! I'll sure let you have some of mine! I'll never get all mine sold."

"I know—me neither. Do we really have to pay for every one we don't sell?"

"Yeah, but you can always sell a lot at the last minute."

"That's right. Don't worry about it."

Besides sponsoring the famous "Twirp Dance," Amikki carried on many activities. A few of these included selling cowbells for the Football Jamboree, two rummage sales, their annual Christmas formal, "Christmas by Candlelight," a ski trip, and various other social activities. Though Amikki is a social club, they carried on such projects as the sponsoring of a little girl at the Boys' and Girls' Aid Society, preparing a Thanksgiving basket for a needy family and working at Providence Hospital.

An incident that will stand out in the minds of all Beta Chi members is the time that they were Christmas caroling at an old folks home. A little old lady laughingly gave them a dollar to go home and let the old folks sleep.

Most of their projects are more gratefully accepted, however. They took part in projects such as making favors and bean-bags for the Portland's Children Center and ushering at the Civic Theater, visiting adopted grandparents, arranging flowers at Doernbecker Hospital and donating money to Hungarian Relief. To earn money to carry on these projects, Beta Chi sold fortune cookies after school during the fall, and later on had a dance after a basketball game.

Kuisti Members Feature "Girl of the Month"

An important part of every Kuisti meeting is the reading of thank you notes from people who have been benefitted by some of the club's service projects. These notes of thanks are merely a symbol of the happiness that Kuisti girls spread around them by doing such services as giving parties for children's homes, making Christmas favors for the faculty, baking cookies for war veterans, making stuffed animals, and many others. The members also demanded much respect from the whole school by patrolling the hallways of the third floor during both lunch periods. The quiet corridors on the third floor seemed to evidence the fact that the girls were doing a good job of keeping everybody away.

To spur the girls to work harder than ever on such service activities, the hardest-working girl of each month is given a silver bracelet which bears the title, "Girl of the Month."

"Say, that was a pretty good joint meeting last Friday, wasn't it?"

"Yeah, not bad. Let's have another one with them."

"Good idea."

"Hey, be quiet, you guys. We've got business to take care of."

"Say, that girl you took home wasn't bad."

"Where are the sergeants-at-arms around this place anyway?"

"That's what I say. We've got to get the Sock Hop taken care of."

"That's right. Say, Larry, could you announce it in an assembly next week?"

"Sure—I think so. I'll talk to Jerry about it."

Kyro, a social club, co-sponsors one of the most unique dances of the year, the Tropical Sock Hop, with Optimists. Bermudas, oversize straw hats, and loud socks are the rule for dressing. The Sock Hop is held annually in the gym, which the boys furnish with exotic decorations.

Other activities include a carwash and date and joint meetings.

The barge down on the Willamette River which is owned by city wide Optimists was once again the scene of Cleveland Optimists' annual date meeting. After winding around dimly lighted streets near the harbor the boys and their dates finally wound up in the barge for dancing, refreshments, and entertainment.

Besides this social function and others such as joint meetings and the annual "Tropical Sock Hop" which they sponsor jointly with Kyro, Optimists have done such service projects as helping at hospitals and donating to the Red Cross.

Phi Theta Offers Spring Formal

"Oh, Judy! What darling slacks!"

"Oh, aren't they cute!"

"Thank you. I got them for Christmas."

"Will the meeting please come to order!"

"Judy, you always have such fabulous clothes!"

"I know, doesn't she though?"

"Will the meeting please come to order!"

"Sorry, Steph. We'll be quiet."

"All right. Now we've got to get something done tonight on our formal. Did anyone inquire about a band?"

"I called up Bill Becker, but I forgot to bring the prices with me."

"There's a real terrific band that played at the Portland State Christmas formal. I'll try and get them."

"O.K., but you've got to get on the ball!"

Phi Theta, a social club, held one of the much-anticipated spring formals. Held in late March, it was the last club formal of the year. Other activities included a Dutch Auction, cookie sales after school, the presentation of a dance after a basketball game, and various joint and friendship meetings.

Pi Up Throws Annual Spaghetti Dinner

"Hey, everybody! I brought my dues, at last! Where's Gretch? Oh, that's right—Carol's treasurer now."

"Let's be quiet, now! Meeting come to order!"

"Say, when are we going to have a joint meeting?"

"Skip it for now. We've got to talk about our spaghetti dinner."

"I know a real good club from Grant that I could get a joint meeting with!"

"Sergeant-at-arms! FUNCTION!"

"Be quiet, you guys!"

"All right, about our spaghetti dinner . . ."

Besides their yearly spaghetti dinner Pi Up also presented a Hallowe'en dance given for the entire school, their formal, "Fountain of Dreams," a rummage sale, a joint date meeting with Phi Theta, and other joint and friendship meetings. The girls also stuffed Christmas stockings for the Red Cross, though the club is primarily social.

"Sweetheart of Sigma Phi" Establishes New Tradition

"Hey, you guys! It's been suggested that we have a joint meeting in the near future. Anybody have any ideas?"

"I know the president of Klix from Grant. Want me to call her up?"

"Yeah—why don't you go and do it right now."

"While he's doing that we'd better do some planning on that dance."

"Yeah. Hey, Bish! How much have we got in the treasury now?"

"I'm not sure. I don't have the books with me."

"I called her up and they can have a joint meeting next Tuesday if it's all right with you guys."

"Sure! That's a good date."

Sigma Phi stirred up a lot of excitement this year with their new "Sweetheart of Sigma Phi" ball. It was held in early March and was open to the entire school. Being a boys' social club, Sigma Phi's purposes are to promote social activities around the school, to promote a social relationship between Cleveland and other schools, and to give the boys a chance to improve their social etiquette.

The very newest social or service club to receive a charter at Cleveland is Sirs a boys service club. Organized in December of this year, the boys have spent most of their time so far in just getting set up for business—applying for a charter, organizing a constitution, admitting members, and all of the many other responsibilities that go along with the initiation of a club. When they have gotten all of the preliminary things taken care of, however, they will begin to work for the purpose of the club—to "maintain a service to our school and community."

"To grow as a person.
To grow in friendship with all people.
To grow in the knowledge and love of God."

These are the goals that Tri-Y girls have set forth as their own. The members have various ways by which they try to attain these goals. Some of their activities include Christmas caroling, giving parties for children's homes, sponsoring a city-wide "baby sitting while voting" program, serving at the YWCA Christmas tea, and giving an annual teacher's tea.

The Cleveland chapter of Tri-Y is just a small part of the city-wide and nation-wide Tri-Y. Some of the projects that all the Tri-Y groups of Portland have worked on together include the winter formal, the raising of funds to improve the YWCA facilities, the mid-year conference for all Tri-Y girls, and various other activities.

"Say, what about decorations? We'd better get a committee."

"That's right. Who wants to be on decorations?"

"I'd rather be on publicity."

"Yeah—me too."

"I'll be on decorations."

"All right, who else will work on decorations?"

And so the planning went for one of the most exciting dances of the school year. The King of Hearts dance was an innovation this year, and a take-off from the long-established Royal C Dance.

Some of Trolee's other activities included their yearly Jamboree flower sale, rummage sale, Amikki-Trolee potluck and formal.

Zios Aids School, Community, Countries Abroad

Whether they were serving at a PTA function or baby-sitting with the children of voters, the girls of Zios were always busy accomplishing their goal—to render service to their school and community. The list of their services is endless—sending ten dollars a month to a Korean orphan, plus extra packages of clothing and other miscellaneous necessities; sponsoring two adopted grandparents, each 95 years old; making scrapbooks for children; ushering at the Civic Theatre and school functions; giving parties at children's homes; sending money to CARE and to Radio Free Europe; collecting clothes for Hungarian Relief; making three food baskets; and collecting toys for the Toy and Joy Makers and magazines for hospitals. To earn the money to carry on these and many other projects, Zios staged a rummage sale, sold C.H.S. buttons, and held a dance after one of the basketball games.

Athletics

Not only do sports unite Cleveland in a feeling of fun and fellowship, but they also teach us something—they cultivate in us a feeling of loyalty toward our school and a capacity for good sportsmanship. In the long run, perhaps these qualities are more important than whether we win or lose.

"Yea, TEAM!! Let's GO!!"

With a flurry of yellow and green and a leap through the air, the rally squad added color and excitement to football and basketball nights. Spuring the team on to victory . . . encouraging the crowd to yell louder, LOUDER . . . leading the yells with all the pep and enthusiasm that is typical of Cleveland High, their energy appeared endless.

Behind their eagerness lay long hours of practice. Many a night would see six girls and three boys at the school creating new yells and perfecting old ones. The results were worthwhile, however, for they inspired the school to offer full support and unquenchable enthusiasm to the teams.

Originality also marked the '57 rally squad. The most talked-about change occurred in the girls' rally outfits. Under new green skirts they wore white ruffled bloomers trimmed with green and yellow bows, and topped the whole outfit off with feathered headbands.

Rally King Roger Grabinski shoves Queen Kay Manning on swings after a rally practice.

Being a vigorous rally squad member can cause many a pair of sore and swollen feet, but the girls found the wading pool in the park too cold to be soothing.

Sacrificing their voices for Cleveland's victories were these Indian braves, Roger Grabinski, Jim Purcella and Ron Krupke.

Indians Rate High in Pre-season Standings

Cleveland went into the season as top team in the Portland Interscholastic League. However, lack of depth and injuries figured in holding the team down to a third place in season standings. Overshadowing our loss of first place we acquired six berths on the city squad plus one on the all-state team.

The Indians were a hot-cold team throughout the season. First a game would be won, and then lost. This was the pattern set by the team all season. "For five consecutive years Cleveland has won as many or more league games than they have lost," stated Coach Hub Shovlin. "They are the only team in the city that has had consistency to that extent each year."

Doug Bashor, center for C.H.S., not only held down center position on the city squad but was honored by being placed on the all-state team. Bob Coblens grabbed a position on the city's first team while Dave Voll and Gary Swaim made second team and Jay Maxwell and Rick Alper received berths on the third team.

Cleveland 33 — David Douglas 6

Cleveland's Indians used break-away runners to score a 33-6 win over David Douglas September 7 at the Lincoln field. Bob Coblens rambled for two Tribe touchdowns on runs of 72 and 60 yards. Grant Gaskin returned a punt 82 yards for another touchdown. Joe Gatto ran 15 yards for the Indians and Jay Maxwell ran 4 yards for the two other Cleveland touchdowns. Maxwell also kicked two of the extra points.

Cleveland 27 — Franklin 13

The Indians had to come from behind to beat Franklin in a game that Hub Shovlin stated "was flawless ball except for two plays." Cleveland, in the eyes of sports writers, did not live up to expectations at the Jamboree but looked like a different team the next night.

Making touchdowns for the Indians Saturday night were Jay Maxwell and Joe Gatto with one TD apiece and the Indians' "tank" Bob Coblens with two TD's.

Cleveland 6 — Lincoln 26

Cleveland was the only first-round winner that failed to repeat in the second stop on the seven-game PIL schedule.

Cleveland made its only serious threat to Lincoln's goal line a success. The Indians' six points came on a breathtaking pass from Voll to Gaskin.

Cleveland 25 — Jefferson 19

The Indians' ground attack, which bogged badly when they bowed to Lincoln the previous week, was back at its gruelling force against the Demos.

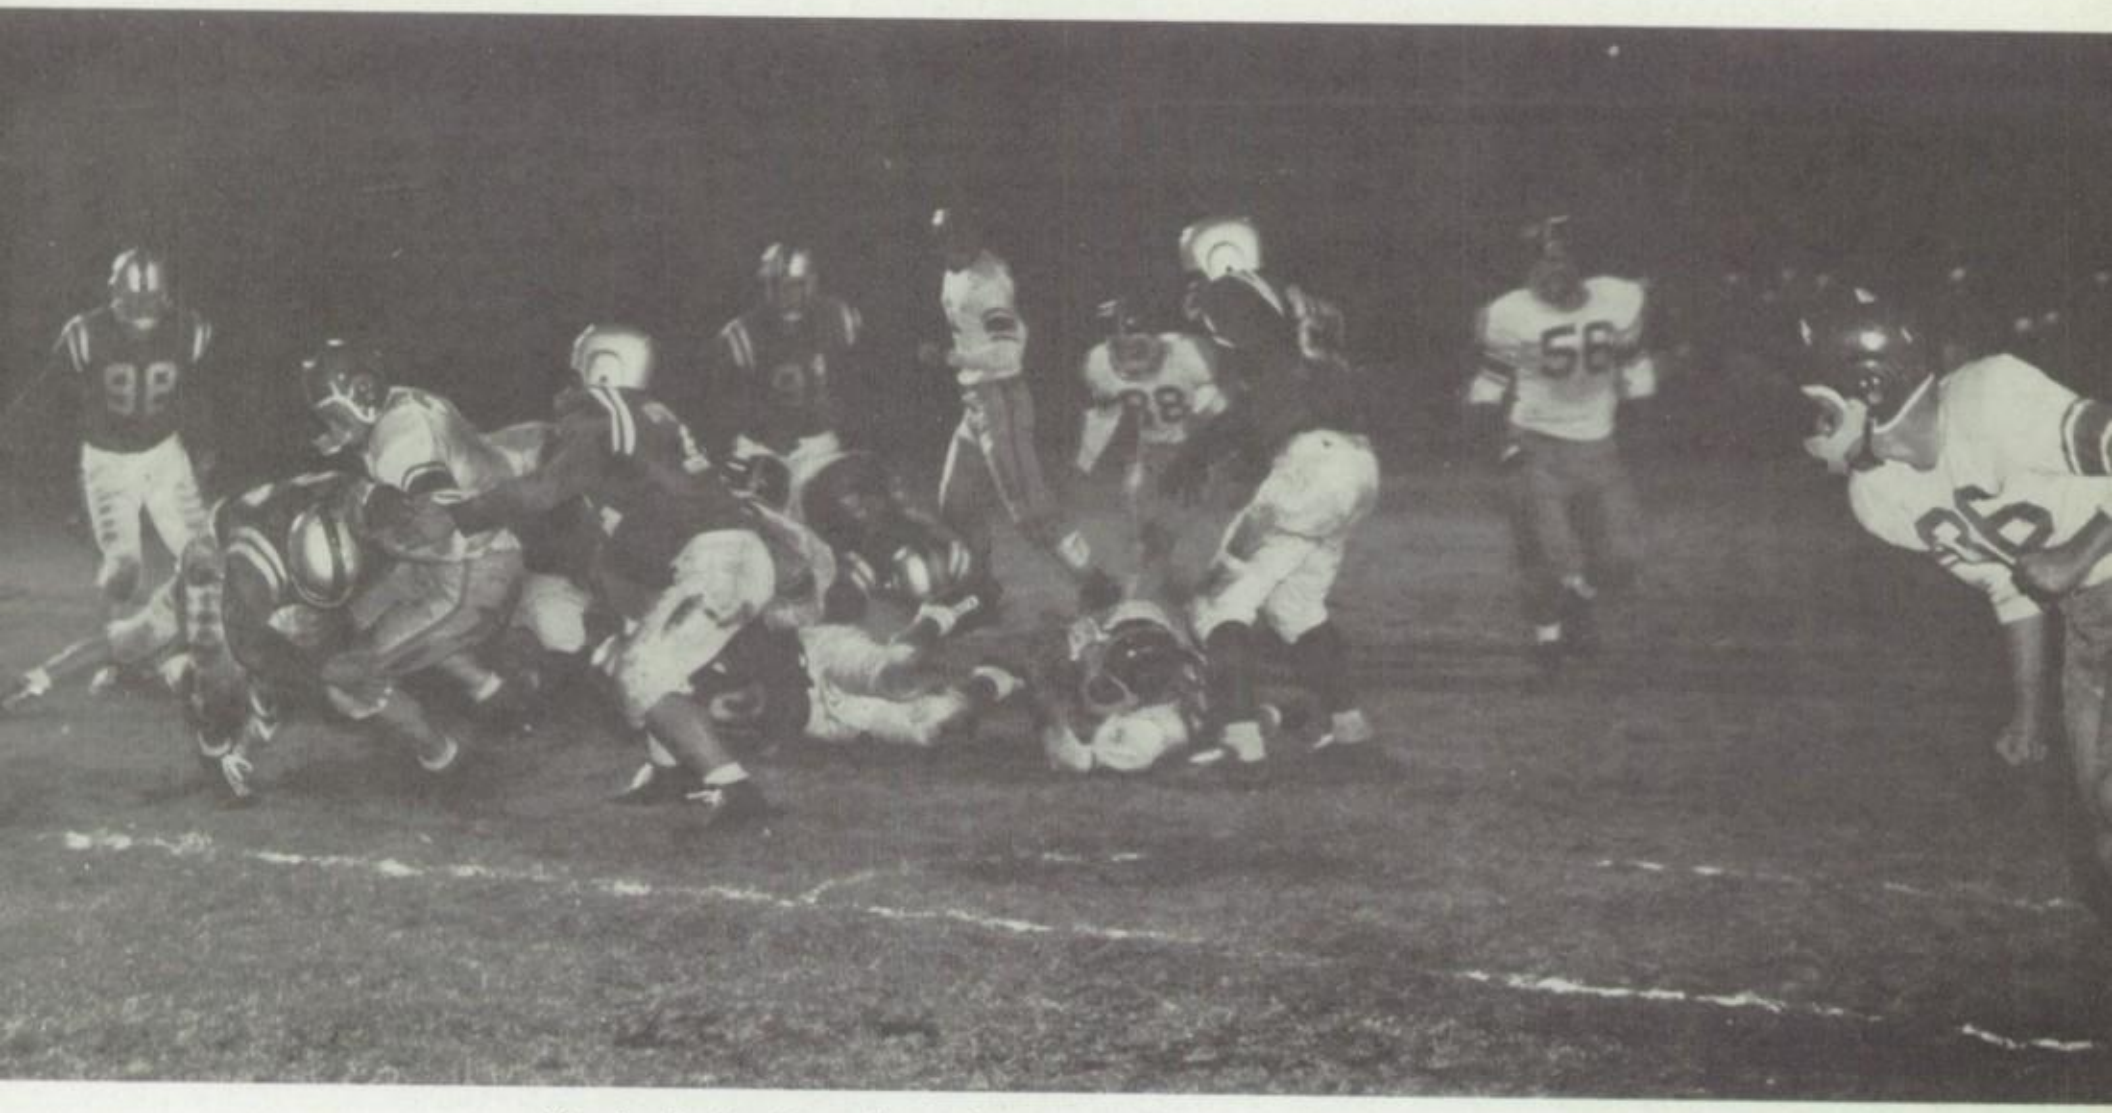
On the third scrimmage play of the game the Tribe had six points with Bob Coblens sweeping right end for 46 yards. Coblens accounted for two Indian touchdowns and Jay Maxwell and Joe Gatto for one each. Maxwell also had one placement.

Cleveland 14 — Benson 25

Up to the Benson game it was give and take all the way. Needless to say, the Benson game was give instead of take. Although Cleveland outplayed Benson the second half, the Techmen had a 14 to 0 lead to lean on at the half.

Playing an outstanding game for the Indians was Jay Maxwell, who made the two Cleveland touchdowns. Joe Gatto was credited with two placements.

Indians Swamp Quakers, Demos; Lose to Tech



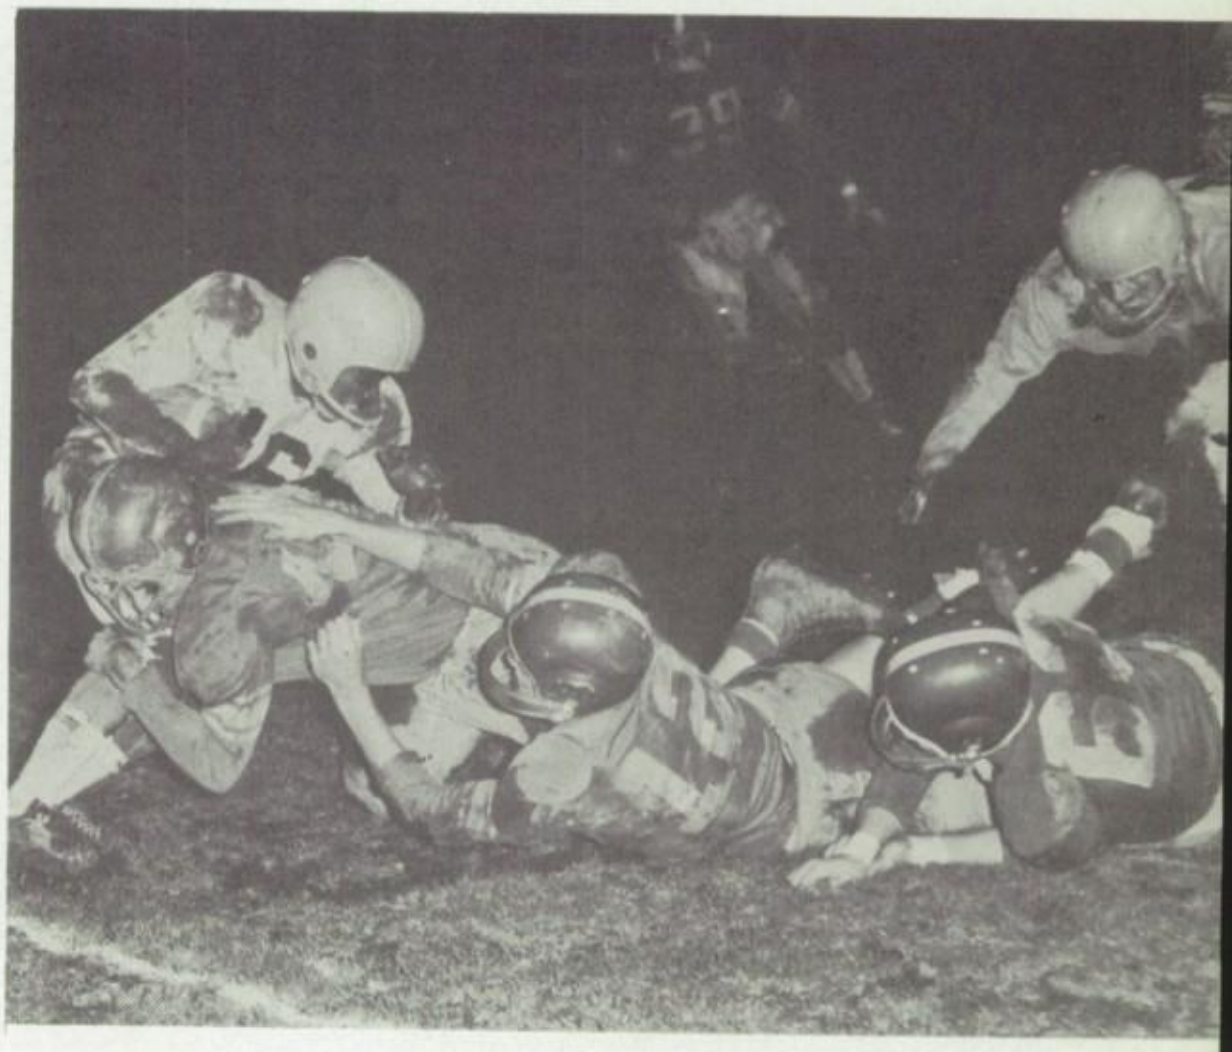
Cleveland's Jay Maxwell punches over goal line for Cleveland's first touchdown of the season against David Douglas. The Indians were in the midst of their first win, a 33-6 victory over the Scotties.

Cleveland 27 Roosevelt 18

Cleveland ground out its 27-18 win over Roosevelt with single touchdowns in each quarter with the Indians' ground attack doing heavy duty.

Accounting for Cleveland's touchdowns were Bob Coblens and Dave Voll with one each and Joe Gatto with two. Voll, Gatto and Coblens each had one placement.

The Colonials of Washington found very little running space in the Cleveland line. Indians gang up to make it hard going.



Cleveland 7 Grant 20

Cleveland lost all chances of winning a State play-off berth during the game with Grant by taking a 20 to 7 upset from them.

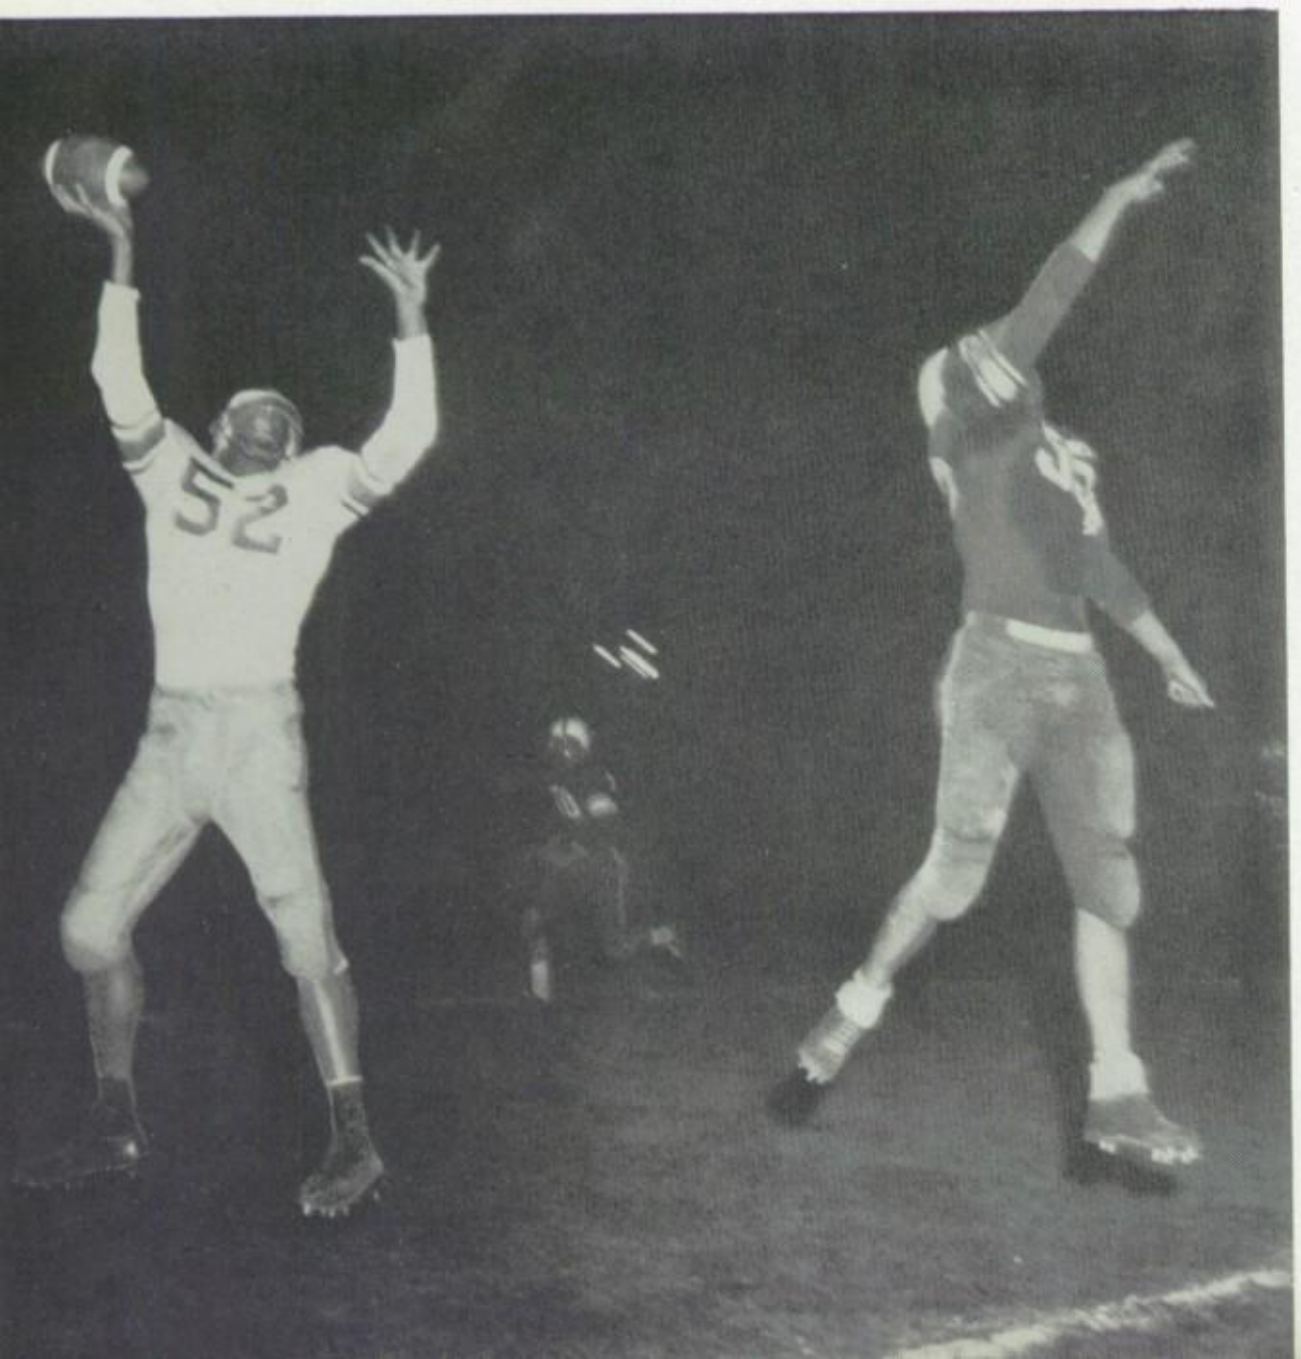
Cleveland outplayed the Generals three of the four quarters but could not put together the right scoring plays.

The Indians had one touchdown called back by an off side penalty and were inside Grant's 10-yard line four times in the first half.

Cleveland's only score came on a run by Jay Maxwell with Dave Voll getting credit for the placement.

Joe Gatto shows speed as he outruns Washington defenders. Joe was one of the chiefs of the mighty Indian backfield.

Grant Gaskin eludes Lincoln defenders to make a spectacular catch of an aerial thrown by Dave Voll. Cleveland went on to lose the game.



Cleveland 14 Washington 7

The Cleveland Indians ended their season with a win over the Colonials of Washington.

Cleveland had a bad break in the first quarter which gave Washington a 7 to 0 lead at half time.

Washington held their lead throughout the third quarter. But in the final quarter a fired up Cleveland club went out and got 14 points. Accounting for Cleveland's touchdowns were Bob Coblens and Joe Gatto, each with one.

Pep and Enthusiasm Mark J. V. Squad

Papooses were lead by rally kings Bob and Dick Warrick and their little rally queen, Sharon Branson.

A spirited J. V. Rally Squad introduced many innovations in the form of new uniforms and yells. This peppy and spontaneous group was chosen from the freshman and sophomore classes at the close of football season. Sharon Branson led the group as secretary, along with the Warrick twins as Co-Kings. The helpful and reliable Marjorie Kerby, P. E. leader, was their advisor. The new uniforms consisted of white sweaters, green kulottes, and moccasins for the girls. The boys wore all-white uniforms. The lower classmen can well be proud of their yell leaders, who have well paved their way to a possible berth on the varsity squad next year.

Mermaids Capture State Title; Third Straight Year

A very strong girls swim team ran off with their third straight State Championship trophy in a row. The team made a clean sweep of all competition which it encountered during the year, and captured the statetrophy 26 points ahead of their nearest opponent, Oswego. This marks the 3rd year Cleveland girls have not been defeated in a meet. The girls were coached by Miss Donna Gaylord, a new addition on Cleveland's staff.

Lorna Tramblay, Cleveland's back stroke specialist, captured two first places in state meet.

Judy Martin captured the 200 yd. state freestyle crown; she also swam on the 1st place 200 yd. medlay relay team.

Bob McCullough, Coach

Cleveland had a prominently dominated junior team as the 1957 basketball season came to a close with 8 wins and 14 losses.

A tough pre-season schedule faced the Indians this year. They came up with two wins and four losses. Their wins were over The Dalles and Grants Pass. Their losses were to Central Catholic, Astoria, Gresham, and Medford —all of which were strong teams in their own leagues.

The Indians, due to a lack of experience, had a very rough first round of play, winning only one out of their eight games. In the second round, however, the Tribesmen proved to be a hard team to beat as they won five of their second eight games. A team that had been little to nothing in the first round turned out to be the league spoilers.

Injuries played a major role in holding the Indians down this year as two outstanding senior players were put to the bench in the first round of play. Dave Voll broke his leg while trying to turn around and go after the ball in one of the early games. Dave Roark, who injured his knee last summer playing basketball, reinjured it in one of the first games.

The Indians landed one all-city post and the credit can go to Jerry Jones, Cleveland's sharp-shooting guard who earned the position.

Cleveland 57 — Roosevelt 64
Cleveland 59 — Roosevelt 53

The Indians split a pair with the Teddies. The first game of the series found the Indians outgunned all the way. The half time score was 37-22 in favor of the Teds. The Tribe came within two points in the fourth quarter but then ran out of gas. Leading the Indians in points were Watson and Jones, both with 10. The second game fitted almost the same pattern as the first. The Teddies had a 32-23 lead at half time. Midway in the final period Cleveland tied the score, 45-45. This time they didn't run out of gas, as the final score was 59-53 in favor of the Tribe. The top scorers were Jones, with 16, and Dippold and Demarinis, each with 12.

Dippold seems to think that everyone is up in the air over nothing as he goes after the ball.

Cleveland 51 — Grant 75
Cleveland 43 — Grant 44

In their first meeting the once-proud Indians held on and fought back doggedly through the first half against Grant, but faded out fast in the third quarter and ended up on a short end of a 75-51 score. The second meeting found the Indians on the short end of a 29-14 half-time score. Cleveland came to life in the second half and made the Generals fight to a 44-43 win in an overtime game.

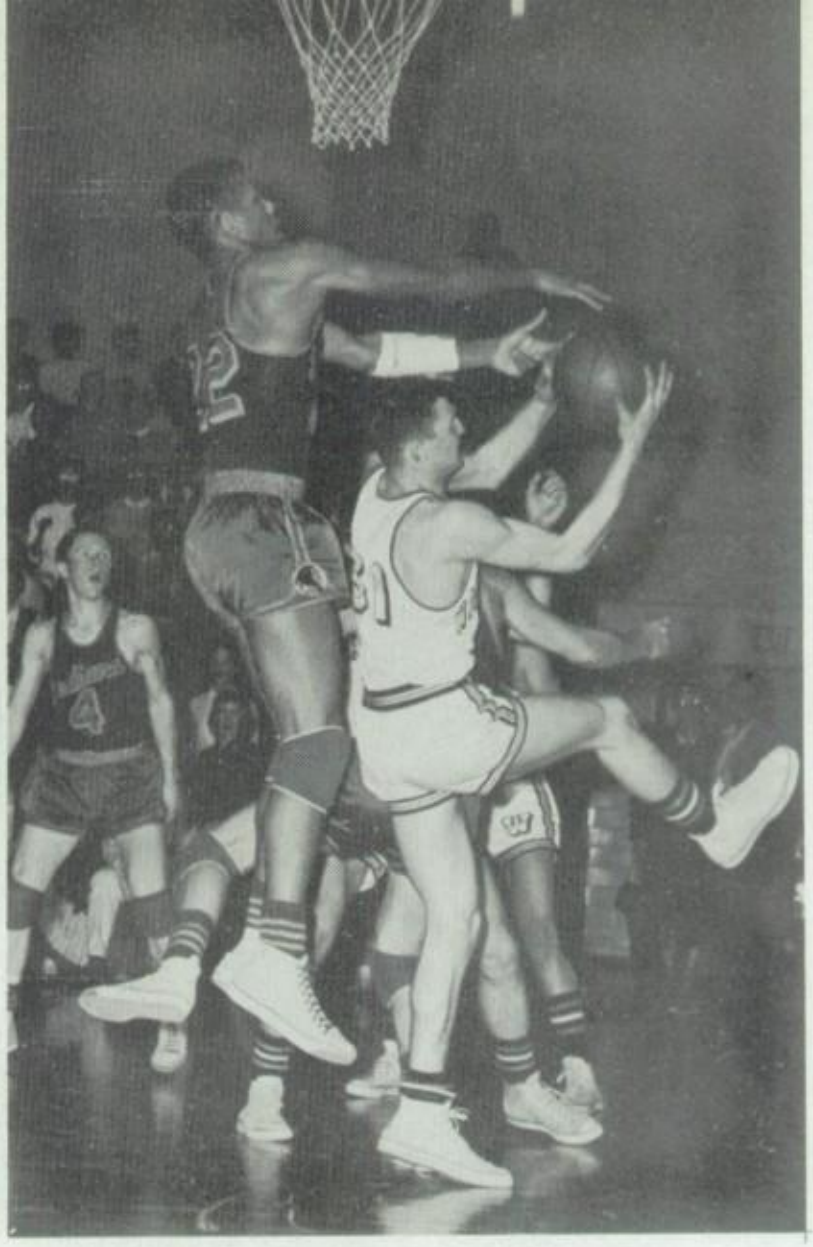
Cleveland 58 — Franklin 61
Cleveland 64 — Franklin 61

In the first meeting of Cleveland and Franklin, the Indians outshot their taller opponents from the field, 25-23, but Franklin took advantage of its foul shots and offset the Indians' advantage. The second game followed the same pattern as the first. Field completions were even at 23-all. The Indians hit 18 free shots to 15 for Franklin. In the last three minutes of the game, the Tribesmen built up a six-point lead. The lead was too steep for the Quakers. Dave Boyle led the scoring in the first game with 17; Demarinas led the second game with 19.

Cleveland 51 — Benson 78
Cleveland 44 — Benson 57

Benson overwhelmed the Cleveland Indians in their first meeting of the two clubs. Benson led at the end of every quarter with leads of 20-13, 39-25, and 59-37. In the second meeting the shorter Indians held their ground through the first half with the Engineers. The half-time score was tied at 27-all. Benson, however, jumped to a nine-point lead before Cleveland could score. Cleveland drew no closer than seven points after this Benson flurry. Jones led in scoring in the first contest with 16; Boyle was the leading scorer in the second game with 14.

Benson players appear to have been caught off guard by Gaskin as he leaps high off the floor to collect two points.



Left: Boyle has difficulty getting the ball away from two Franklin players.

Right: Washington player finds no room to shoot as Gaskin waits to steal the ball.

Cleveland 64 — Wilson 39
Cleveland 72 — Wilson 53

Cleveland dumped Wilson, 54-39, as the two clubs met for the first time on the Wilson floor. The Indians substituted freely and all twelve players saw action. Grant Gaskin was high man for Cleveland with 15 points. In the second meeting Cleveland led all the way with quarter margins of 15-10, 33-18, and 53-30. Jones, Gaskin and Dippold led in the Indian scoring column with 17, 13, and 12 points, respectively.

Cleveland 48 — Jefferson 53
Cleveland 72 — Jefferson 65

Low scoring characterized the first meeting of Cleveland and Jefferson as the Demos ran up a 53 to 48 victory. In the second game, however, Jefferson found out a team can't let its guard down, even against the tailenders of the league. The eighth-place Indians rose up to turn back the tied-for-second Demos in a free-wheeling 72-65 game. Cleveland was lead in scoring in both contests by Jones, with 14 and 19, and Gaskin, with 12 and 14.

Cleveland 49 — Lincoln 59

Cleveland 51 — Lincoln 67

Lincoln's towering front line proved too much for the Indian defenders. The Cards had a half-time lead of 30-15. The Indians found it hard to hit the bucket, as our scoring was spread out over a wide field. Jerry Jones had his best night against the Cards as he came through with 27. In the second meeting of the two clubs the Cardinals were depending on their big men once more. A 42-26 devastating lead was held by the Cards at half time. The Indians were lead by Jones and Gaskin with 18 and 8, respectively.

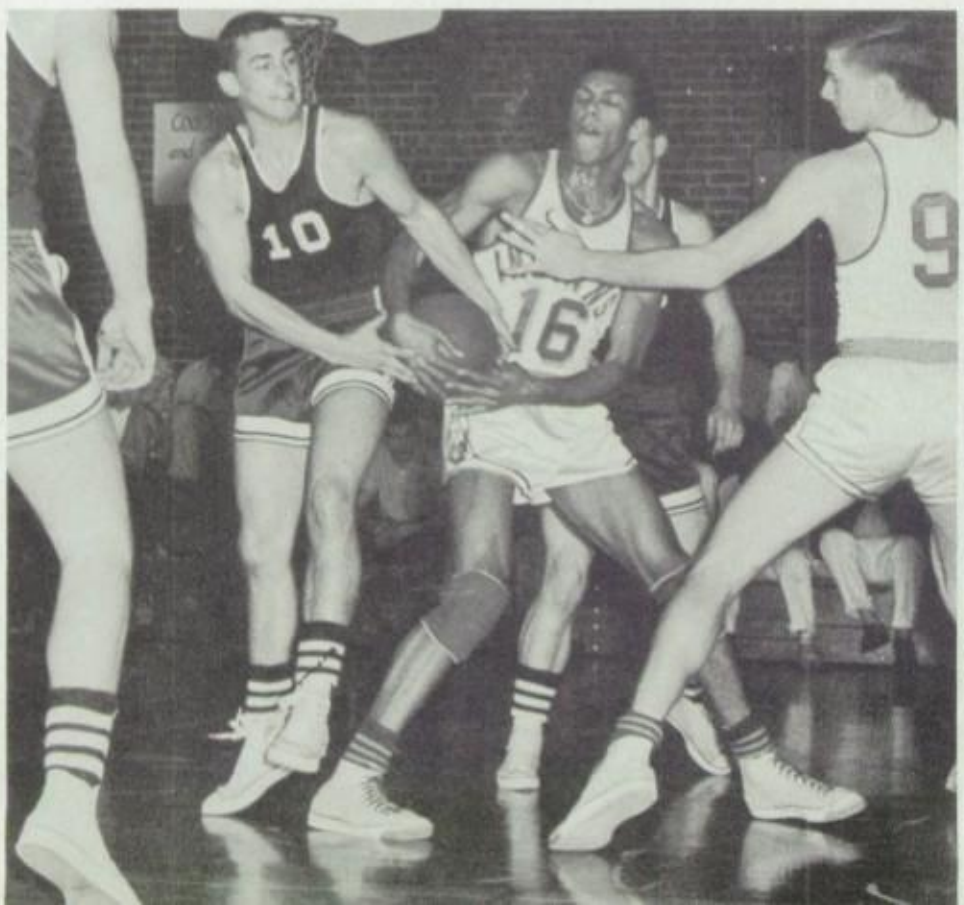
Cleveland's all-city star Jerry Jones tries to set up a shot against the Gresham Gophers in pre-season play.

Cleveland 52 — Washington 62

Cleveland 65 — Washington 55

Persistent scoring turned out to be the deciding factor as these two clubs met for the first time. Washington had a 34-23 lead at half time. The final score was 62-52 in favor of the Colonials. Cleveland scared Washington by the same ten-point margin the Colonials beat the Indians by in their first meeting. Grant Gaskin, big Indian center, gave the Indians the rebounding strength they needed as he cleared the boards consistently. Leading the Indians in points was Jerry Jones with scores of 27 and 20.

Lincoln player is caught up in a held ball situation by Cleveland Indian Grant Gaskin.



Ed Watson and Grant Gaskin move in rapidly to try to steal ball from Jefferson in hot sideline action.

Wrestlers End Up in Sixth Place

Cleveland's varsity wrestling team found itself in sixth place at the end of the dual meet season with a record of three wins and five losses.

The Indian matmen were inexperienced as the season started. This can be attributed to the fact that it was only the second year of wrestling at Cleveland. Some of the outstanding boys in wrestling this year were Milton Fyre, Terry Raschke, Dick Morrell, Larry Tracy and Doug Bashor. Bashor missed part of the season because of a back injury received in football.

Cleveland had only one wrestler representing them at the State Meet, little Milt Fyre. Fyre wrestled his way to the city crown in the 115-pound class. Milt, who is only a sophomore, collected his second consecutive title in all-city competition. He also wrestled his way into the semi-finals at the State Meet last year.

Coach Don Pickens, in his second year at the helm of our wrestling squad, will be looking forward to a stronger and more experienced team next year.

As we grow into adulthood we are not only developing our personalities and broadening our minds, but we are also enlarging upon our amount of common sense. As we begin making our own money and securing a certain amount of financial independence we are learning how to manage our finances. We are discovering how and where we can get the most in quality and quantity for our money.

Hi there,

I'm Elisa Teach. Better known as Skuter, a student at Cleveland and waitress at TIDWELL'S COFFEE SHOP, 1420 S.E. POWELL, in Safeway Shopping Center. We serve breakfast, lunch and dinners—sandwiches, fountain service and the very best soft ice cream.

See you there huh!

No they're not idiot's, imbeciles, or moran's—just normal everyday students in the atmosphere of producing a book. The strain of excessive deadlines, writing and pasting copy, and drawing layouts has merely reproduced itself in a typical staff picture.

What You Are to Be....

Marianne, Give really enjoyed knowing you this year. You're a "bubbling" personality and always "chuckle" a lot. I know you'll make a terrific actress and should go along in the life complete. Best of luck to you a lot because you deserve it.
Love & luck always,
Judy Glaser

Dear Marianne,
If you ever feel blue, & don't know what to do, just remember "Sue" Lots of luck in your future years & may all your wishes come true.
Mushily, & Lovingly,
Sue

Marianne,
I've enjoyed (?)
biology with you.
You have so many personalities I don't know what to say. Keep up the excellent acting and Latin.
Lots of luck,
Jean Arndt

marianne,

It's been real fun having you in P.E. class. I hope to have some classes with you next year also. Have a nice time this summer and see you next year.

Lots of luck,
Nancy Lehman
